Pampa Man Is Winner Last Big Prize

A Pampa man, Joseph L. Price, was winner of the quarter horse, Casey's Beauty, at the Palo Duro State Park last Sunday. The 1949 Treasure Hunt came to an official close Sunday, and all prizes which had been offered for the hunt were awarded.

The quarter horse, given by Glen L. Casey, had been won recently by Joseph Kraemer of Amarillo, who held more than 200 coins which he and his wife had found during the Treasure Hunt. Living in an apartment in Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Kraemer decided that they did not need the horse, so donated it back to the Treasure Hunt for a final drawing.

It took nearly three hours to dispose of the remaining 200 prizes which had not been claimed by the numbers ending in "7".

John McCarty, concessionaire at the Park, is launching a campaign for prizes to be given in the 1950 Treasure Hunt. He will announce plans soon for this big event. In the meanwhile, plans are developing for a Christmas pageant at the Palo Duro, and other unique attractions. Large groups of people are planning conventions and other meetings at the Palo Duro during the winter months.

State Representative Blake Timmons was on hand to assist Mr. McCarty with the drawing last Sunday, and made a short statement regarding the future of the park.

Exhibit Material Is Needed County Agent's Office

The deadline for exhibit materials for the Randall County booth at the Tri-State is rapidly approaching.

County Agent H. E. Shahan will be in charge of the booth this year, and needs much material at once for the exhibit.

He must have this material by next Thursday as it will be moved to Amarillo in time for decorating the booth and opening of the fair. Those having good samples are urged to see him at once.

Lyons Named Director of Hiway 60 Organization

A meeting of representatives from all towns along Highway 60 was held in Amarillo Thursday afternoon. Gordon Lyons, manager of the Southwestern Public Service Company represented the Canyon Chamber of Commerce at the meeting.

It will be the aim of the association to bring more tourists through this section of the Southwest. The highway has been completely paved from St. Louis to Los Angeles, and the association will seek to make it the most attractive highway in the entire section.

Mr. Lyons has been appointed permanent representative of the organization from Randall County.

Lodge at the Palo Duro Park Will Be Plains Meet Place

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Oliver have taken over the concessions at the Lodge in the Palo Duro State Park, according to John McCarty. The Lodge has been completely renovated and improved. In a short time electric lights from Canyon will be available for parties at the Park.

"We want to make this the meeting place of Panhandle folks. Those who have night parties are cordially invited to make plans for their dinners or parties at the Lodge. College groups are invited to hold their meetings at the Lodge, and we will do everything to make their meetings pleasant," stated Mr. McCarty.

Keeping the Lodge open throughout the winter has always been a problem in the past, but Mr. and Mrs. Oliver are determined to make this a real meeting place where people will enjoy gathering.

CHANGE IN CENTRAL H.D. MEET
The Central Home Demonstration Club will meet Friday, September 30, with Mrs. Veltan Soree instead of Friday, September 23. Bring articles for exhibit to Ford Motor, Saturday, Sept. 24, at 11:00 o'clock.

Mrs. L. D. Winn returned last Wednesday from Lubbock where she had spent two weeks in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Spencer Winn, and grandson, Bruce Davis.

Ira Wancey of Sardis, Miss., visited in the home of his aunt, Mrs. J. W. Horn, last week.

4-H Pig Club Was Judged on Saturday a. m.

Ten 4-H Club boys entered sixteen hogs in the local 4-H Club Show held Saturday morning.

The following boys won the gilt show:

Joe Max Carver, 1st, $8.00; Roland O'Donald, 2nd, $7.00; Glen Tuckek, 3rd, $6.00; Floyd Rogers, 4th, $5.00; Bob Wilkerson, 5th, $4.00; James Parker, 6th; Gene Parker, 7th.

The following boys won the pen of three class:

Donnie Stroup, 1st, $17.50; Norman Ray Tuckek, 2nd, $15.00; James W. Reynolds, 3rd, $7.50.

Homer Brumley, of Hereford, judged the show. He has judged this show for the past three years, and he remarked that the hogs have been improving in quality since he started judging the show; in fact, he said the last place gilt this year showed more quality and a better gilt than the first place gilts did in 1947 and 1948.

H. E. Shahan, County Agent, states that Joe Lee Rogers, owner of the boar, and Joe Max Carver, owner of the first place gilt, will show their hogs against the winners of the other Panhandle counties during the Tri-State Fair.

Dr. J. A. Hill Urged at Last Minute for Board

In spite of the announcement made by Dick Bivens that he was a candidate for the State Education Board, letters and phone calls poured into Dr. J. A. Hill during the past week urging that he enter the race.

It was reported from Amarillo that 850 persons had petitioned Mr. Bivens to make the race before the closing date of Monday. The school superintendents of this area, led by Amarillo school men, sponsored the petitions. Mr. Bivens has been a member of the Amarillo school board for three years.

The Amarillo Times quoted the editorial of the Canyon News pointing out the mistake being made by school men in turning down the services of Dr. Hill after he had devoted 39 years of his life on the Plains to the cause of education.

As soon as the statement was printed, Dr. Hill and the Canyon News were both urged to get out petitions and announce the candidacy of Dr. Hill.

A letter to Dr. Hill from his son, Davis Hill, superintendent of the Galveston public schools, advised his father not to make the race. There will be little but headaches for members of the new board of education, and radical changes will have to be made in the Gilmer-Aiken law by the next session of the legislature.

"I am happy that I did not get into the race," stated Dr. Hill on Monday. "But I deeply appreciate the friendship of those who offered to sponsor my candidacy and gave me so much encouragement."

The petition of Dick Bivens was forwarded to Austin in time to qualify him as a candidate for the job.

Progress Is Being Made on 4-Lane Highway

"It's a slow job, but I am happy to report progress," stated G. B. Heath Monday. Mr. Heath is securing easements for the right-of-way on highway 87 through Canyon. He has contacted practically all of the property owners, and secured a number of agreements during the past week.

Mr. Heath has been in conference with the oil companies located at the junction of Fourth Avenue and Highway 87. All of the companies are agreeable to having the highway widened, but this will naturally bring problems to these firms. No easements have been given by any of the companies, but Mr. Heath states that he believes that he will reach a friendly and reasonable agreement from most of the firms.

Mr. Heath and the City Commission are preparing to ask the County Court to appoint a Jury of View during the coming week in order to have this body ready for action when it is found that reasonable agreements cannot be reached with the property owners. Mr. Heath states that he believes three disinterested property owners who live outside of Canyon should be selected for the Jury of View. After the finding of the Jury is completed the City Commission must instigate condemnation proceedings against any property whom it considers is asking more than a fair price for his property.

In those cases where it will be necessary for the owners to move a building in order to meet the requirements of the State Highway Commission, Mr. Heath is securing an itemized statement of the various claims which the property owners are demanding. In case the city finds that some of the items are excessive, it may do the job itself, or refer the matter to the Jury of View for arbitration.

"This job is taking time, much more time than the average citizen appreciates, but I am going as rapidly as possible. I have conferred with the District Engineer of the Highway Department on vital issues, and he is fully informed as to the progress which is being made," stated Mr. Heath.

Fire Destroyed Two Cars and Garage At Glenn Dowlen Farm

Neighbors of the Glenn Dowlen family awakened the family Sunday morning at 2 o'clock when it found that the garage, with two passenger cars was practically burned to the ground; the pick-up nearby was on fire; and the roof of their home was on fire.

Prompt work on the part of neighbors saved the home and the pick-up, but the garage and two cars were destroyed.

The cause of the fire was undetermined. One of the cars was new, having been driven only about 5,000 miles. Insurance covered part of the loss.

Wheat Yield Is Better Than All But One Year

Some interesting figures on the 1949 wheat crop of Randall county are furnished the News by W. H. Upchurch, secretary of the local Agricultural Conservation Association.

On the basis of 85% of the total wheat seeding, which has been reported to the county office up to September 20th, the average yield per seeded acre was 17 bushels. Using this figure as a basis the total production from 246,600 acres seeded for the 1949 crop, we have a total of 4,192,200 bushels.

Since all but 15% of the acreage has been reported and tabulated the final total will not show a variation of over one-tenth of a bushel either way. The last 10 or 15 percent is more likely to be a little lower but not enough to materially change the total. In tabulating yields for the county totals it is revealed that 82 farms produced over 25 bushels per acre and 22 of them produced 30 bushels or over.

Only once in the past 22 years, for which these records have been kept, did the county produce a total higher than this year. In 1947 there was produced a total of 4,540,000 bushels. However, in that year the total acreage was about 20,000 acres more than this year. Only five times in the 22 years did the yield reach 17 bushels or over for the total seeded.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cole are on a vacation trip to St. Louis.

Funeral Service For Mrs. J. A. Moore on Friday

The funeral services for Mrs. Myrtle Ellen Moore, 72, were held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church, of which she was a member. Rev. Hubert Thomson, Methodist pastor, was in charge of the services, assisted by Dr. Roy L. Johnson, pastor of the Baptist Church.

The body was laid to rest in Dreamland Cemetery under the direction of the Griggs-Warren Funeral Home. Pall bearers were Ray Cole, Jay Prichard, Worth Jennings, W. E. Miller, Dewey Foster, Alvin McDonald.

Mrs. Moore was born in Tennessee on September 24, 1876. She was united in marriage with John Allen Moore on August 19, 1894. To this union seven children were born, two having died in infancy.

The family has lived in Canyon since 1918.

She is survived by her husband, J. A. Moore; three sons, C. A. Moore of Holdenville; Claude Moore of Canyon; Haynes Moore of Wilcox, Arizona; and two daughters, Mrs. Royal Pendleton of Stratford and Mrs. Grady Pearson of Spearman; ten grandchildren and four great grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. J. L. Moore of Canyon; Mrs. Charlie Ackard of Deckard, Tenn.; and Mrs. Sumner Bell of Deckard, Tenn.; three brothers, H. E. Rowe, L. T. Rowe and S. D. Rowe, all of Wichita Falls, all of whom were here for the funeral.

Other relatives here for the funeral were Turner Troupe of Oklahoma City; J. W. Rankin, B. R. Young, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Sander-son, all of Holdenville; Mrs. Julian Caton of Eunice, N. M.; Kenneth Moore of Clovis; Sam Mitchell and daughter, Gay, of Bellview, N. M.; Mrs. Fred Sharp, Charlie McAfee, Mrs. Fred Savage, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Edd Moore of Pilot Point; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Richie, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Shell Leverett, all of Vernon; Walter Pendleton of Stratford.

Polio Fund Has Reached More Than $2,100.00

Randall County's drive for Polio Emergency Fund was given top consideration last week with a reported amount of just over $2,100 raised. This amount came from about 700 contributors; or an average of $3.00 per contribution.

"The National Foundation has asked that we keep the campaign open until Sept. 30th; so, we will be happy to receive any contribution that you care to make through that date," stated J. W. Shook, campaign chairman.

"We, who have headed the drive, wish to thank each person and each organization that has helped in any way in the raising of these funds. Only with your help could we have made this showing. When we realize that it takes on an average about $750 per case of polio to pay the bills, we will see that we have only made provision for the care of three afflicted children. We wonder if we should be content to stop there?" continued Mr. Shook.

"If we have failed to contact you or you feel that you would like to add to this fund, will you please send your check, made payable to Polio Fund to Levi Cole, The Canyon News, or J. W. Shook."

Robert Tueck First Polio Case Here Is in Plainview

Robert Tueck, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tueck, was stricken with polio on Wednesday of last week and is in the hospital at Plainview.

He is reported to be doing well and it is the opinion of a local physician that he will recover unless something unforeseen should develop.

This is the first case of polio in this immediate vicinity this year.

Dr. J. A. Hill Issues Statement In Regard to Funds Collected For New Chapel Building on the W. T. Campus

To the People of Canyon and Randall County:

Now that we have closed the campaign for funds with which to build a chapel on the campus of West Texas State I desire to make the following statement.

More than 500 people, firms, and organizations have contributed $43,039.24. In addition to this sum I have a written pledge of $800 to be paid when construction gets under way. A few people, for financial reasons, have asked permission to pay sometime this fall and I have extended to all such that privilege, since most of the funds will not be usable before spring anyway. Whatever comes from these sources will be added to the above total. Am hoping to reach the 45 thousand mark.

As contributions have come in they have been receipted from the office of the Secretary of the President of the college. That office in turn has deposited the money with the Business Office of the college and has taken a receipt therefor. The Business office has then deposited the money in a special West Texas State Chapel Fund account at the First National Bank in Canyon. The State Auditor has made an annual audit of the fund since the beginning of the project.

The architect has about finished the revised preliminary plans, which will be submitted to the Board of Regents for approval at its October meeting. Following such approval final plans for specifications will be drawn, to be submitted to the board at the following meeting. The Board will advertise for bids, which, of course, if accepted must come within the amount of money available in this fund. Should all bids exceed the sum on hand at that time they will be rejected and the plans revised again.

Under the above procedure actual construction can hardly begin before next spring. We shall certainly expect to have the building complete by Sept. 1950.

I have been asked about the expense of the campaign. The only expense that has been charged to the fund was the cost of two small bulletins which were gotten out in the early part of the campaign. A friend immediately contributed to the fund a sum equal to the cost of the bulletins, so that he would appear in the list of contributors. All other costs such as postage, travel, secretarial help, printing and advertising have been borne by private parties and firms, except that receipts issued donors have been mailed from the college.

Many people have helped in many ways with the campaign. Five different secretaries in the office of the President of the College have given generously and cheerfully of their time and energy. I could not have conducted the campaign without their help. It is impossible to name all who have helped, but I believe that David M. Warren of Panhandle deserves special mention. He simply passed the hat to Carson county and received contributions from some sixty people for a total of approximately $4,400. My hat is off to Dave Warren and Carson county from here on.

The largest donation, $2,850, came from Dr. and Mrs. O. H. Loyd of Vega, pioneers to whom this country owes much. The organ will be a memorial to this fine couple. Incidentally, Oldham county is running Carson county a close race.

Dr. C. T. McCasland of Tulsa made the first donation and started the ball rolling—a $300 check.

Bufs Tangle in Indian Game Saturday Night

When the McMurtry Indians engage the West Texas State Buffaloes Saturday in Canyon, it will mark the renewal of a football rivalry that began in 1926.

The two colleges have fought eleven grid battles with McMurtry holding the edge in the win column, having won six to the Buffaloes five.

McMurtry handed West Texas four straight defeats at the beginning of the series, holding the Buffs scoreless in the first three games. However the Buffs came back to take the next four games and to hold McMurtry scoreless in two.

The largest score recorded in the series was a 21-0 victory for the Indians in the first game in 1926. The Buffaloes took the last game by clouting the Indians 20-0 in 1940.

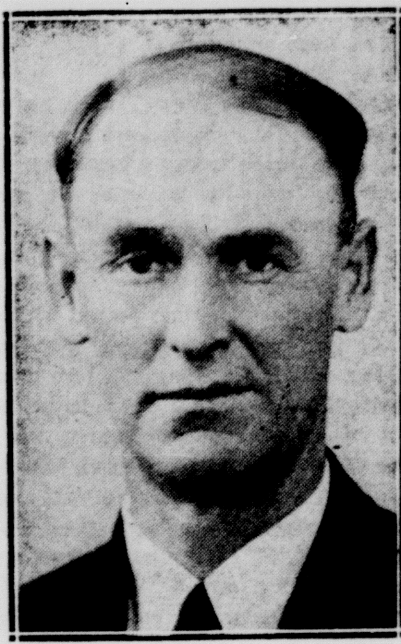

The McMurtry Indians were champions of the Texas Athletic Conference in 1948. West Texas State was runner-up in the Border Conference.

Both the Buffaloes and Indians made impressive showings in their opening games Saturday night. It is predicted that a large crowd will greet the teams when they take the field at 8 o'clock Saturday night.

W. C. Black Is Named President First National

W. C. BLACK

At the first meeting of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank in Canyon since the death of R. H. Wright, W. C. Black was elevated from Vice-President to the Presidency of the Bank and chairman of the board.

In his new position, Mr. Black follows in the footsteps of his father, the late Dr. J. M. Black, who was president of three banks in Canyon, The Canyon National Bank, the Citizens Bank and the First State Bank.

W. C. Black joined the First National Bank as assistant cashier following two terms as sheriff and tax collector of Randall county.

The board named Clyde W. Warwick as vice-president to succeed Mr. Black in this position.

Due to the fact that the stockholders will elect a new board of directors in January, no director was named to succeed Mr. Wright on the board of directors.

The following resolution of respect was adopted in respect to Mr. Wright:

For the past 43 years, Roy Wright president of the First National Bank in Canyon, has devoted his life to a banking institution of which he was pardonably proud, and achieved in the financial world a goal which was his life's ambition.

On this 19th day of September, 1949, at the first regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bank, following the death of Mr. Wright on Tuesday night, August 16, the following resolutions of respect were unanimously adopted by the Board of Directors.

Be it resolved by the Board of Directors, that we are deeply grieved at the passing of this distinguished friend and neighbor of the past 43 years as he devoted his life to the upbuilding of this community. Throughout the years, Mr. Wright has been a friend of those who needed his assistance and advice upon financial matters.

That we deeply appreciate the fine work that has been accomplished by Mr. Wright as head of this banking institution, in making it one of the soundest banks in this area.

That we pledge the combined efforts of this Board of Directors to carry forward the fine work which has been undertaken by Mr. Wright as he continued to be head of this bank.

That a page of the minutes of the First National Bank in Canyon be set aside as a dedication to the life of Mr. Wright, and that this resolution shall be inscribed thereon; and that a copy of this resolution shall be forwarded to the sister of Mr. Wright, Mrs. John D. Middleton.

Children Under Six Offered School Aid At Baptist Church

First Baptist Church of Canyon has offered class room space and can provide experienced teacher and equipment for twenty children who are not old enough to attend public school this fall. Of course there will have a be enough pupils to justify the expense, and a tuition fee will have to be paid by each child's parents.

School authorities report a great demand for schooling for these children, and the church leaders are willing to render this service at bare cost of instruction provided there is sufficient demand to justify it. Contact the church office, phone 407, or the pastor at phone 221, or attend a meeting of interested parents, Saturday afternoon, Sept. 24th, at 4:00 in the church parlor, ground floor entrance on east side of church building at 1717 Fourth Ave.

Canyon News Gets a Mild Rap on Innocent Knuckles

The Canyon News always appreciates having letters from its readers. Too often we go for weeks and months without getting a good trimming down about something which appeared innocently in the paper. We may have offended someone without realizing what we were doing.

A case in mind is a letter from a banker in another town, objecting to so much advertising being carried by The News. Our only defense is that this newspaper has the lowest advertising rate in the Panhandle, and it takes a considerable amount of advertising to pay the expense of producing this weekly newspaper.

The second objection is that we go haywire in our spelling, and typographical errors that get into the paper. This objection is the thing that brings gray hair, or lack of hair, in the heads of all newspaper men and women. Just how and why so many typographical errors get into print is a mystery which all newspapers deeply regret. It is so much easier to see errors in print than when you are reading proof.

Another explanation may be due to the fact that The News receives many communications weekly, and too many of these news items are not well written, and proper names are not correctly spelled.

At any rate, thanks for the letter, and we shall try to be more careful in editing the news items.

Income Collector Smiles With His Tongue in His Cheek

We got quite a kick out of the statement of a newly appointed income tax collector who was put to work in Chicago. His declaration was that these fellows were out to help the public, and not to prosecute, or molest the tax payers.

If you have had one of these fellows around your office for a few hours, you realize the joke of his statement. These fellows are being paid to get the money. If they don't get the money, they will soon be out of a job.

We are not saying that their positions are entirely wrong, and that they are seeking to prosecute those who have been in error in their income tax returns. But they always add the penalty prescribed by law. If one of them gets hold of your income tax returns, in 99 cases out of 100 he can find plenty wrong, and a penalty will be added.

Why try to fool the public with soft soap? And while we are talking about it, why can't the government be as honest in its dealings with the public, as it demands that the citizens be honest in their income tax returns?

The government has refused to pay every college in the nation huge sums of money for veteran training. These accounts were agreed upon and approved by the veterans administration, but were disapproved in Washington.

It that any way for the government to treat its citizens?

Social Security Questioned By an Alert Thinking Citizen

An interested citizen pointed out the other day that so far Social Security in this nation was a misnomer. He had pretty good reasoning. Under the law, workers would receive a small pension when they reached the age of 65 years. This amount is far below the necessities of life. Therefore, there is nothing left for workers to do but stay on their jobs as long as they can possibly work. Perhaps Dr. Townsend has a disciple in this citizen.

This citizen points out the fact that the average age limit in America today is 65 years, 2 months. Therefore, the average citizen would enjoy this small dole about 2 months after he retired, and before he died.

While this theory is good, let it be pointed out that when retired persons are unable to work, even a small boost from Social Security may be sufficient to keep the wolf from the door.

As we see Social Security, the government is using this as a means of taxation, and it is contemplated that the rate to both employee and employer shall be boosted for the purpose of getting more money, which will go into the federal treasury, and not into Social Security.

Governor Shivers Makes His Declaration For 1950 Race

Governor Allan Shivers announces that he will be a candidate for re-election in 1950 to the office of Governor of Texas. This is not exactly the case, since Shivers is now Governor because of the death of his predecessor. His announcement brings no surprise, as it was well known months before the death of Jester that Shivers wanted the job, and would be a candidate for Governor in 1950.

It is very evident that half a dozen other budding candidates for the job will not make the race now. Death has upset the plans of many men throughout the ages. The death of Jester upset the political plans and perhaps fortunes of several Texans. Naturally all of these candidates could not hope to be elected, but they would sure make a mighty try in their efforts to be elected.

The Right to Gripe Is Trend English Speaking Nations

There are so many things being investigated today in Washington that good Americans are pretty apt to become cynical of our government. The trend of the day is to criticize all phases of government, instead of try to help out on ticklish situations.

There are so many more good things in America today than there are "bad" ones that all of us should consider the blessings which we enjoy. The free right to gripe about existing evils is one of these blessings. For instance, English speaking nations encourage all citizens to explode when they think they are badly treated. Under dictator rule, a lot of American newspaper men would have been shot years and years ago.

Murder of 13 Was Crazy Loon

As an illustration of how this great Democracy of ours works, take the example of the former GI who went haywire and murdered 13 people. Some smart criminal lawyer will convince the courts that he was crazy—which we grant—and soak him away in some institution for 25 or 60 years—at public expense—and then turn him loose when he is "cured." Funny business.

Mystery of Synthetic Rubber Revealed in Plant at Borger

We wish that we had the knowledge to adequately describe to you the manufacture of synthetic rubber, which goes on day and night, 24-hours the clock around at Borger. We recommend that you take a day off and make a trip to Borger.

There you will first go through the 38 million dollar gas plant of the Phillips company, where butadiene is taken from natural gas. Don't ask us why it takes a plant covering acres of ground to extract that substance, and why it is necessary to have hundreds of miles of pipes, thousands of pressure gauges, compression tanks, and other machines that we cannot comprehend. They are there, the experts say that they are necessary.

The mystical stuff, called butadiene, which Fulton Lewis rolled off his tongue like melted butter and which he said should be manufactured from corn likker, but which is found more economical extracted from natural gas, goes to another multi-million dollar plant which is operated by the U. S. Rubber Company. Here again we saw a lot of things, and professed to understand them, but blamed if we knew anything about rubber when we got through. The only thing for certain that we found out was that enough SOAP is stored in Borger to wash all the lines of a dozen states for many weeks. Soap is one of the vital substances in synthetic rubber. No one could get much soap during the war because the rubber plant had priority on the supply.

Yes, and we found out another thing: There is enough synthetic rubber manufactured in the United States to take care of the rubber needs of the world. Following World War I England was gyping us for $3.00 per pound for raw rubber. The Japs cut off the rubber supply in World War II, and we were forced to build eight big, expensive plants with which to manufacture rubber. Now, today, natural raw rubber sells on the market at 16 cents per pound; synthetic raw rubber sells at 18 cents per pound. The guide said that they could make automobile casings which would outlive the car, if they dared, but the rubber companies must stay in business.

We recommend that Panhandle citizens go to visit these huge plants. You have a small part in these investments of Uncle Sam. Fridays are visiting days, and adequate guides are furnished to take you through. No, you cannot smoke, as you might blow up the plants; and you cannot wander around at will. There are plenty of cops to see that you behave yourselves; and besides just who would want to be blown to bits while going places they knew nothing about?

One thing is very, very impressive: Uncle Sam had to do something to protect your interest and my interest in winning the war; but when the shooting stopped, he was glad to turn these big plants over to private enterprise for operation. Free enterprise again won!

Wannamaker Employees Back Stores Where They Work

Something new under the sun bobs up every so often! It is refreshing when that something is good, and out of the ordinary.

Instead of calling strikes and creating strife in one big plant, we read with amazement that the employees of the vast John Wannamaker stores have banded together and bought page ads in all of the newspapers of the areas in which these stores are located, praising the Wannamaker firm, and urging that the public buy more goods from these stores.

After all, those who do the work in any organization are responsible for the success of the firm.

The clerk who does a good job in handling customers, draws more customers.

The steel worker, who has pride in his work, turning our better steel deserves a pat on the back.

After all, there is no one-way ticket in any public institution, whether it be a newspaper, or a mercantile establishment, or a manufacturing plant. It takes the united efforts of capital and labor to get the job done in a satisfactory manner.

The Wannamaker employees are to be congratulated in having the right attitude to the firm where they make their living, and the service which they are rendering to the public.

Criminals Are Coddled By The Courts and the Public

A criminal lawyer has scored the criminal laws of Texas as being entirely unjust to the public. He cites instances where the criminal is given every consideration, at the expense of the state.

How true! How very true. The criminal laws of Texas are written for the benefit of the criminals, and not for the protection of the public. A smart criminal lawyer has a 90 per cent chance to defeat justice.

Why kick about that! After all the public coddles the criminal, and rushes to the defense of the fellow who is caught in his crimes.

The public is to blame for electing young, inexperienced lawyers to write the laws of the state in the legislature, and then it is to blame for its attitude of coddling the criminal if perchance he is brought before the bar of justice.

We, the public, should understand that we have an obligation in crime prosecution, and not leave it up to the criminal lawyers, who know all of the technical defects of our laws.

Economy Hits Where It Hurts

While Senator Lyndon Johnson is pretty much of a new dealer, he calls attention to the howl which has gone up as the result of the economy drive of Secretary Johnson. About 135,000 navy civilians were cut off the federal payroll by Secretary Johnson because Congress demanded retrenchment.

Possibly Senator Johnson was somewhat peeved, like other members of Congress, to see his friends put out of soft jobs at the expense of Uncle Sam. But he was good enough sport not to holler too much about the economy of the Secretary.

Tito Is Still a Communist

It is hard for the average man to understand the antics of Tito. He is commie, the same as Stalin. But he insists upon being a commie in his own country, and not bow to the dictates of the commies in Moscow. He blasts America and the other Democracies, but still has his hands out for our dirty, filthy American dollars. Tito is playing both ends against the middle.

It is a mistake for people to brand everybody intolerant who does not accept what they believe.

(Taken from the files of the Randall County News of September 18, 1924)

The Randall County Fair will get underway this weekend. Rain started falling, but fair officials announce that nothing will stop the fair.

Mrs. Myrtle Rusk was found dead at her home yesterday morning. Heart trouble was given as the cause. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Clouch.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris Cook arrived yesterday from Mississippi. He has accepted a position in the college. The 50th anniversary of the Battle of Buffalo Wallow was observed Friday.

The Canyon Eagles will play the Amarillo Sandies at Amarillo. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Eastwood.

County Agent J. W. Jennings is assembling a fine exhibit to take to the Tri-State Fair. Because of the large cotton crop planted in Randall county and the prospective opening of the cotton gin, J. L. Prichard has been appointed public weigher by the commissioners court.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bradford are spending some time at Siloam Springs, Ark.

Miss Dorothy Burrow is attending school at Mount Holyoke; Miss Attie Gene Humphreys at Vanderbilt; Harper Allen at the University of Iowa.

THE REMEDY

"Oh, doctor," cried the wild-eyed man. "I'm dreadfully afflicted. The ghosts of my departed relatives come and perch on the top of the fence-posts all around my garden when dusk is falling. I can look into the gloaming any evening and see a couple of dozen spooks sitting on top of the posts, waiting, waiting, waiting! What can I do?" "Sharpen the tops of the posts," advised the doctor.

WASTING THE BEST

A man went to the bar and ordered a Martini, drank it, chewed up the bowl of glass, and threw the stem over his shoulder. He continued this for about six Martinis and noticed the bartender was staring at him.

"I guess you think I'm crazy, don't you?" he asked. "I sure do," the bartender replied, "the stems are the best part."

WHY THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD STRIKE?

Over twenty years ago, the Congress of the United States passed the Railway Labor Act. It was hailed by union leaders as a model for the settlement of labor disputes.

THE LEADERS of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railway Conductors, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on the Missouri Pacific Railroad have refused to avail themselves of the peaceful means provided by this Act for settling their disputes. They insist that they be the sole umpire of their own disputes over the meaning of contracts.

President Truman's Board Condemns Strike

There is an established legal method for handling disputes involving existing written contracts—just as there is such a method of settling any contract dispute which you may have in your daily life.

The President of the United States appointed a Fact Finding Board to investigate and adjust the Missouri Pacific dispute. This Board reported, in part, as follows:

"... it is with a deep sense of regret that we are obliged to report the failure of our mission. It seems inconceivable to us that a coercive strike should occur on one of the nation's major transportation systems, with all of the losses and hardships that would follow, in view of the fact that the Railway Labor Act provides an orderly, efficient and complete remedy for the fair and just settlement of the matters in dispute. Grievances of the character here under discussion are so numerous and of such frequent occurrence on all railroads that the general adoption of the policy pursued by the organizations in this case would soon result in the complete nullification of the Railway Labor Act..."

Obviously the railroads cannot be run

There is no Need for Strikes

With all of the available methods for the interpretation of contracts, there is no need for a strike or even a threat of a strike, but the leaders of these railroad unions have ignored the ordinary procedures established by law and insist upon imposing their own interpretations of their contracts by means of a strike.

The wheels have stopped rolling on the Missouri Pacific. They may stop rolling on other railroads at any time. Recently the Wabash Railroad was forced to discontinue operation for several days under similar circumstances.

What are These Strikes About?

These strikes and strike threats are not about wage rates or hours. They result from disputes over the meaning of existing contracts. They cover claims for a full day's pay for less than a day's work, or for payments for services performed by others who were fully paid for the work done.

efficiently or economically if the leaders of the unions ignore agreements or laws.

Provisions of the Law which are Disregarded

There are five ways under the Railway Labor Act to settle disputes over the meaning of contracts:

- 1—Decision by National Railroad Adjustment Board.
- 2—Decision by System Adjustment Board for the specific railroad.
- 3—Decision by arbitration.
- 4—Decision by neutral referee.
- 5—Decision by courts.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad has been and is entirely willing to have these disputes settled in accordance with the requirements of the Railway Labor Act. Regardless of this fact, the union leaders have shut down that railroad.

Innocent Bystanders Suffer Losses and Hardships

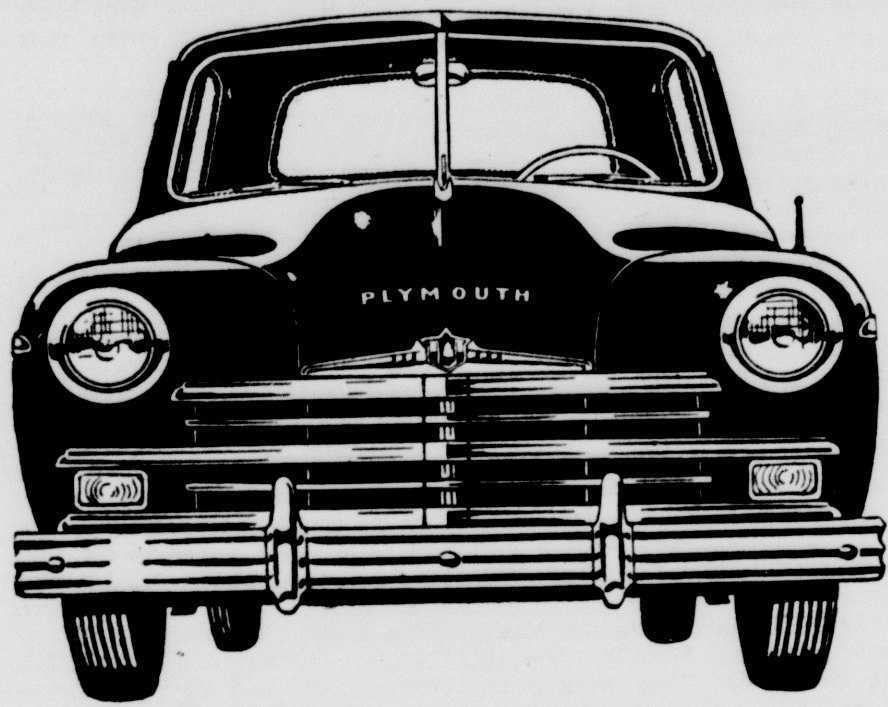

There are about 5,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen on the Missouri Pacific. They are known as "operating" employees, and are the most highly paid of all employees on the nation's railroads, but their strike action has resulted in the loss of work to 22,500 other employees of the Missouri Pacific. In addition, they have imposed great inconvenience and hardship upon the public and the communities served by that railroad.

The Railway Labor Act was designed to protect the public against just such interruptions of commerce.

If these men will not comply with the provisions of the law for the settlement of such disputes, then all thinking Americans must face the question, "What is the next step?"

Buffaloes Won Impressive Victory Saturday Night in First Game of The Season, 41-7, Against Lions

The Buffalo football team satisfied all Panhandle fans Saturday night by trouncing East Texas Lions 41 to 7. The Lions had dumped the Buffaloes at Dallas last year by a close score of 13-7.

Starting slow in the first half, they gained momentum in the second division until they had thoroughly trounced and gained their revenge on the Lions.

Using only enough juice to keep going, the Buffs racked up 14 first downs and gained 309 yards along the ground off their newly-employed winged-T. Also functioning properly enough to give a good indication of what to expect through the air, was Gene Mayfield's spectacular pitching, and the showing made by Coach Frank Kimbrough's sophomore crew.

The Lions under Coach Bob Berry were shackled from the first quarter on. They did manage to pick up eight first downs but traveled only 95 yards through the Buff defensive.

Things were a little different than the Lions had expected when they left Commerce. People around the East Texas educational plant were laying odds that the Lions would repeat their 13-7 defeat of the Buffaloes that took place last year in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas.

The Buffs will take on McMurry College next Saturday night at Buffalo Stadium in Canyon. The Indians were edged 27-26 by the Tulsa Golden Hurricane Saturday night.

The Buffs connected in the first quarter as Gene Mayfield passed to Frank Wise in the end zone to climax a 33-yard drive. Automatic Junior Melton added the first of five successful kicks from placement.

East Texas jumped back to tie the score in the second period driving 57 yards before Bill Engle piled over from the one yard line for the marker. Bobby Nations added the point to knot the game 7-7.

West Texas took the lead again in the final minutes of the first half when Mayfield hit Bill Cross with a 12-yard aerial. The Canadian Comet, not believing that a straight line is the quickest route between two points, went out and around, under and over the Lion defensive set up to score. Melton's kick was wide and the Buffs led the game at the end of the half 13-7.

The Buffs wasted little time in marking their third tally early in the second half. Roy Dunn kicked off and the Lions ran only one play before Cross intercepted Engle's pass on East Texas' 42 and returned to their 34. Wayne Sullivan picked up a couple of yards through the line and Mayfield pitched to Dunn on the 19 yard line of the Lions. Then showing another talent, Mayfield side-stepped his way to paydirt around his own right end. Melton added the point and the Buffs led 20-7.

From then on it was merely a question of time as to how high the Buffs would run the score.

Jimmy Draper scored from the six midway through the third period after the Buff line shoved East Texas back to their six and were forced to kick.

On the first play, Mayfield's pass to Joe Ogden was barely short in the end zone. But runs by Mayfield and Draper carried to the six were Draped added the punch.

For the third time in the third period the Buffs got their hands on the ball and moved to score again. Starting at the mid-field stripe, Charlie Wright drove on delayed handoffs to the six yard line before crashing over for another West Texas marker.

East Texas took to the air in earnest in the fourth period while their defense tightened to hold off the Buff hoard.

With Bill Engle doing the passing they struck time and again but were held outside the Buff half of the field. Vic Bates intercepted one of Engle's aeriels and went 39 yards before being hauled down but the play was nullified by a Buff off side.

With only minutes remaining in the ball game East Texas kicked out on WT's 27 yard line. They moved to the 38 but were penalized again for illegal use of the hands to the 23. Wright took a handoff from Melton cut over his left guard and went to the East Texas three yard line before being blocked out by R. C. Gibson. Vic Bates then hauled it over and Melton added the point.

The East Texans took the kickoff and started passing again but advanced no further than their own 38 when the final gun sounded.

The Buff forward wall functioned like a veteran crew at mid-season in the second half. First game nervousness was prevalent during the first two quarters but they shaped remarkably. Especially notable were the sophomore linemen who garnered ample glory of their own.

DAY OF DAZE

Shure they made the open highway large
Enough to be too small
When the cars jam-pack it tightly 'til
They've slowed down to a crawl.
And they set gas stations carefully
So they'd be out of sight,
When tires go flat or fuel tanks dry.
Or children cry at night—
Then, they sprinkled it with road dust

Just to add to all the gloom
When you hit the crowded beaches where
There's only standing room—
And to try it on the public
And find out how hair turns gray:

Shure they picked the hottest time of year
And called it LABOR DAY!

Regular Sleep Vital To All Persons Says Authority On Health

Sleep is a necessity of life and health according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, and habitual loss of sleep will tend to retard the body's recovery from fatigue of the day's activities.

"We may be able to go without sleep for a night or two, but too little sleep for a prolonged period will undermine the health of a rugged person and turn a cheerful individual into a cross, irritable one." Dr. Cox said, "when good health can be protected to such a large extent merely by sleeping, and thus allow overtaxed bodies and minds to secure the proper rest, it is hard to understand why so many persons are heedless of this important health measure."

Some individuals require more sleep than others. How well we sleep is as important as how long we sleep. A good night's rest means a sufficient number of hours spent in sleep to enable each person to feel well, do efficient work, and to keep in a cheerful humor the next day.

"Some outdoor exercise each day, a comfortable bed, and fresh air in our sleeping quarters," Dr. Cox said, "will help us to sleep soundly at night. Do not mull over your problems and ideas after you have gone to bed. Make your plans early in the evening for a good night's rest by slowing down from the physical and mental work of your daily life. When you arise each morning, rested with a feeling of general well being, you will be amply repaid for your thought in planning a good night's sleep."

MRS. CRAWFORD IS HOSTESS TO T.E.L. CLASS MONDAY

The T.E.L. Class of the Baptist Church met Monday afternoon in the lovely country home of Mrs. L. H. Crawford for their regular business and social meeting and for the installation of the officers for the ensuing year.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Dallas Milner, Mrs. G. C. Cole presided. The meeting was opened with the singing of the class song,

"My Faith Looks Up to Thee," followed by a prayer led by Mrs. H. Cook. Mrs. G. B. Heath brought a very helpful devotional from the 42 Psalm.

After a short business session, Mrs. Crews Henry, an invited guest, conducted the installation. She read an appropriate scripture for the beginning of the service and then presented the charge in a very unique and effective way to the following officers: Teacher, Mrs. S. L. Terry; president, Mrs. J. T. Cartrite; membership chairman, Mrs. Cook; fellowship chairman, Mrs. J. I. Payton; class ministries chairman, Mrs. Mae Johnson; stewardship chairman, Mrs. John Wright; secretary, Mrs. J. C. Dowd; group captain I, Mrs. Henry Cone; group captain II, Mrs. R. H. Long; group captain III, Mrs. C. W. Dunn; group captain IV, Mrs. A. L. Watson. Mrs. Terry offered a prayer for the retiring and ensuing officers.

The hostess served delicious ice cream topped with strawberries, cake and nuts to Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Dowd, Mrs. Heath, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Payton, Mrs. Geo. Small, Mrs. M. E. Sogee, Mrs. W. H. Sparks, Mrs. C. H. Stratton, Mrs. Terry, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Roy Yarbrough and Mrs. Henry.

Skarke-Gerber Wedding Vows Read At Early Morning Service in Umbarger

Wednesday morning, September 14, just preceding a nuptial High Mass at 8:30 o'clock, Miss Lucy Ann Skarke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Skarke of Umbarger and Matthias Joseph Gerber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Gerber of Amarillo, exchanged marriage vows in St. Mary's Church, Umbarger. Father Andrew Marthaler, pastor, officiated.

The high altar was decorated with white gladioli and the side altars held bouquets of pink and white asters. The kneeling bench was decorated with white satin bows. The family pews were marked with white satin bows.

Mass servers were Bobby Skarke, brother of the bride, Melvin Przilas and Roman Friemel.

Jimmy Skarke, brother of the bride, was best man and Lawrence Schmicker of Nazareth was groomsmen. Ushers were Bobby Brockman and Joe Rickwartz.

Miss Meda Gerber, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of blue marquisette, styled with a fitted bodice and full gathered skirt. The yoke of illusion was edged with a lace bertha and she wore matching mitts. Her head-dress was a sweetheart bonnet of blue marquisette, tied with a blue satin ribbon. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Betty and Jean Woelfle, nieces of the bridegroom. They wore gowns of pink satin and green marquisette, respectively. The gowns were styled similarly to that of the maid of honor. They wore identical head-dress and mitts matching the gowns. Their bouquets were of yellow carnations.

The bride was gowned in white taffeta, designed with a fitted bodice coming to a point in front. The yoke of illusion was edged with a wide bertha. The skirt was made of ruffled flounces.

Her two tiered veil of illusion was attached to a sweetheart bonnet made of lace and trimmed with orange blossoms.

She wore white mitts and carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with white satin streamers. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls a gift of the bridegroom.

After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party in the home of the bride's parents.

party in the home of the bride's parents. In the afternoon a reception was held, also in the bride's parental home. A wedding dance was given in the Parish Hall in the evening.

The bride attended Umbarger schools and the bridegroom graduated from Nazareth High School. He is now employed in construction work in Amarillo where the couple will make their home.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Skarke chose a gray suit with green accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a green dress with black accessories. They both wore pink carnation corsages.

Assisting with the breakfast and reception were Mrs. Geo. Friemel, Mrs. George Brockman, Mrs. Bill Bauer and Mrs. Ernest Hollenstein.

USO Campaign to Start on October 1st in the Nation

Clyde W. Warwick of Canyon has been named District 3 chairman of the Texas USO reactivation campaign, T. E. Braniff state campaign chairman, announced Monday.

The district headed by Mr. Warwick includes Oldham, Deaf Smith, Potter and Randall counties.

The Texas campaign will raise $500,000 toward the national $10,000,000 for USO, Mr. Warwick said.

"The cold war continues," he declared, "and our people have called for a big Army, Navy and Air Force so that our country will be ready to meet any pressures from the enemy."

"Ninety-eight thousand of our young men and women from Texas are now in uniform, and it is up to us one and all to keep their ties with home, so that they may return to us as happy and useful citizens," he continued. "The best way to assure this is through USO which is on the scene to serve them whether they are stationed at some military establishment here in the United States or at an overseas post. "The USO provides thousands of veterans in Army, Navy and Veterans hospitals with regular professional entertainment, and the frequent reminder so valuable to their morale that neither they nor their heroic deeds have been forgotten. "If our young people can give up valuable years out of their lives in the defense of their country, we civilians at home certainly can show our gratitude and our support through the USO," Mr. Warwick said.

Mrs. Grace Baker with Mr. and Mrs. Tobe Claypool, all of Mesa, Arizona, visited in the W. I. Wester home last week while enroute to Aldrich, Missouri. Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Wester are sisters-in-law.

I. H. Burrow of 11333 Otsego St., North Hollywood, California visited briefly with relatives and friends here this week. Mr. Burrow is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hamblen.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gibson of Skellytown spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. C. H. Jarrett.

THEY DO

Another reason why the professional politician gets more than the people do is because he knows what he wants.

When you hear of a Communist dying, you can never tell whether he kicked the bucket or put his foot in it.

As Bob Taft figures it, if we're to get into another world war, let's do it in the established way—as a guest.

Alben W. Barkley, Vice-President: "After all, I'm no different from you or anybody else."

Robert A. Taft, U. S. Senator from Ohio: "We face today a struggle of ideas and not a struggle of arms."

Alexander Graham Bell was 29 years of age when the telephone was patented.

China adopted tea drinking because the water was impure.

ENTERTAINS WITH DINNER

Mrs. Doris Gillham entertained her brother-in-law, I. H. Burrow of North Hollywood, California, with a dinner Monday evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hamblen, Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Rogers and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parsons and Joy, Alfred Hamblen, Carol, Sonny and Guy, Mr. and Mrs. James Fay Hand, Mona Beth and Traverne.

HIS GRAND DEED

Just before Joe died he made his wife promise she wouldn't marry again. When Jones heard about this, he said: "That was just like Joe, always doing something to help his fellow men!"

PROVED AT LAST

"We're indebted to radio for at least one blessing. It has demonstrated that it is impossible to get a hearing in America without yelling. 'Say, listen.'"

RIGHT-O!

Another thing that the world needs is an alarm clock that knows whether the boss will be in the office when you show up.

In federalese, or bureaucratic double-talk the term "fiscal readjustment," means that the government is going to cost more.

Fairfield Osborn, president, Conservation Foundation: "It can be said that the road to peace and the road to plenty are one."

Vergil D. Reed, research official: "The dreaded buyers' strike has certainly not materialized. It would be dangerous to invite it."

Shakespeare, according to estimates, never made a continuous journey as far as a round trip from Boston to New York.

To woo tourist dollars instead of ECA's Norway needs a slogan for her passenger liners—like "Watch the Fjords Go By."

The Tower of Pisa is 178 feet high and 14 feet out of perpendicular.

Cashier Carves Models of Birds He Seldom Sees

NEW YORK.—With the exception of Sunday — his day off — be-spectacled Eugene Ruffalo pushes change through the cashier's window on the uptown side of the Washington Square station of the IND subway system.

But there are many moments in the day's occupation when he doesn't have to make change. It is then that the cashier becomes oblivious to the train's roar and takes sandpaper in hand to apply the glossy finish to his carved images of birds in quiet repose or in flight.

And when he is not using the sandpaper, he has penknife in hand and whittles away. That little pen-knife has carved more than 100 birds, small and large—the robin red breast, bluebirds, brown thrasher, bluejays, cardinals.

Books are Guides
Ruffalo works with the Audubon book and another on North American birds opened wide.

"I suppose it would be really grand if I could go into the fields and look at real birds in motion but I have little time," he explains.

The sound and stress of the subway make little inroad on his concentration as he carves in his change booth. "I don't hear the trains," he says. But Mr. Ruffalo doesn't forget his regular job. The moment a patron steps up to the window, he quickly puts aside his carving and with experienced hand slides the change through.

"The job comes first," he says firmly; "carving is an avocation, not a vocation."

When the day's work is done Eugene hastens home to his five-room apartment in the downtown section of Brooklyn, where he lives with his wife and two children, Caroline, 16, and Eugene, Jr., 8—and quickly takes pen knife to wood for another species of bird.

After the carving and sandpapering, he paints his creations in the colors of nature. His showcase houses more than 100 birds that, as a neighbor says, "look like they're ready to fly right out of the window."

Needed Radio Piece

At his home Ruffalo was putting the finishing touches on his "most ambitious job" — two bluebirds, perched on twigs, facing each other, and in the center a carved wooden nest with several fledglings, beaks pointed upward.

"Caroline gave me that order. She felt we needed something to place on top of the radio," he said.

It was eight years ago that the father started his hobby. He built a doll house for Caroline on her birthday. "It wasn't much, a front and back porch. I rigged up electricity and a dog and bird house." He told of his failure to purchase a tiny toy bird and dog to complete the doll house. It was then that he decided to carve wooden images. Since then, he said, "I have enjoyed every moment."

Philosophically, he remarked: "Time is a precious thing; I remember reading something about 'Time wasted is existence; used, is life.' I hope I'm making the most of my leisure moments."

Horses in Swim Suits Delight Beach Habitués

LAKE GEORGE, N. Y.—Horses in bathing suits looked like a nightmare to beach goers here, but they weren't "seeing things." The horses were real and they were wearing bathing suits.

It looked like a veterinarian's nightmare of a hot Sunday at Coney Island.

What happened was that dude ranchers in this Adirondack mountain resort area came up with a new stunt to amuse visitors—marine horse racing.

Volunteers would ride horses 100 yards out into the lake, jump off, and let the horse swim ashore. "No," said the local A.S.P.C.A. officer, Dr. Eldridge Moore.

He appeared at a test heat last week end and called it off. Cruelty to animals, he said. "Nonsense," retorted Mrs. Ethel Johnson of Warrenburg, who raises Palominos. "Horses like water as well as people do. They appreciate a dip on a hot day."

"Sure they do," agreed Robert Ellsworth of Mountain Meadows Ranch. "I've had horses swimming for years. It's good for their health."

Dr. Moore wouldn't budge. "Maybe," somebody wise-cracked later, "it would be all right if we put bathing suits on the horses?"

It doesn't take long for an idea like that to spread when the sun beats down from a cloudless mountain sky. Pretty soon people were saying the doctor had approved the idea. Anyway—

Mrs. Johnson appeared at the lake today with her horses in tailor-made swim suits. Gaudy colors, too.

A crowd of several hundred collected. Dr. Moore drove over to see what was going on.

He saw. "Have your fun," he said, "but if anybody puts a horse in the water, I'll have to make an arrest. These horses aren't trained to do this. They might flounder."

Farm prices off nearly 2 per cent from mid-May to mid-June.

War Taxes Are Still Imposed By the Congress

When the war excise taxes were put into effect, it was said that they would be repealed six months after the end of hostilities. Yet they are still in effect, and are still acting as a burden on the consumer and a brake on business.

The taxes apply to a considerable list of commodities and services, many of which are not luxuries under any reasonable interpretation of the term. The primary reason for their enactment was to reduce civilian purchasing in time of war. That reason no longer exists, and there can be no valid excuse for continuing this drag on the economy.

A concerted campaign is now under way in favor of repeal of the levies at this session of Congress. It is sponsored by the principal associations of retailers, including both chain and independent groups, and by many manufacturers. It is also supported by labor unions, which realize that these taxes discourage buying and so prevent employment. The CIO at its 1948 Constitutional Convention passed a formal resolution urging that all excise taxes not regulatory in character be repealed.

The National Planning Association—a non-partisan organization representative of business, labor, agriculture and the professions—has said: "The present structure of excise taxes discriminates between producers of taxed and untaxed goods and many of those taxes weigh most heavily on low income families." They are simply a form of class tax, and are highly discriminatory. Their repeal would be in the interest of business and the consumer, and would be of direct help in maintaining employment.

NOTHING LIKE FRANKNESS

Shortly after Admiral Byrd's notable polar expedition return from the Antarctic, someone asked one of the men what one thing he missed most while away.

"Temptation," was the laconic reply.

Delaware is the second smallest state in the Union.

Copyrights are good for 28 years.

Stamps

"Possible Phenomenon"

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. — Marine Warrant Officer Rudolph R. Hendrick, postal officer of the Marine Corps recruit depot here, recently became the envy of the philatelic world when he discovered a "possible phenomenon" in the 1938 series of President James Monroe stamp.

While purchasing stamps for parcel post, Mr. Hendrick discovered a double overprint of two plate serial numbers. This unusual oddity is extremely scarce because the post office department destroys such errors in printing before the stamps are released for sale.

Only two full sheets with the double plate serial numbers remain in existence, one being in the possession of Mr. Hendrick. WO Hendrick's only comment was, "This sheet can be obtained at a price."

'Secret Witness' System Now Used In War on Crime

CHICAGO. — A new secret weapon is now being used in the war against crime.

This is a "secret - witness" plan which gives men and women who know something about a crime a chance to get their information in the hands of authorities and collect a reward without revealing their names.

The idea has begun to spread rapidly. It has been put to work against killers in Chicago and Los Angeles, against murderers and ballot burglars in Kansas City, against gunmen in Detroit, and against hooded mobsters in Birmingham, Ala.

Sponsors — newspapers in some places, groups of citizens in others — have offered a total of $438,000 in rewards. None of the money has been passed out yet. An informant can't collect until the case ends in conviction.

The chief result, so far, has been information. Hundreds of letters have been received. Many of them offered information that looked helpful. In Chicago, for instance, 226 letters came in during the first two months. Forty-one contained what seemed to be good leads. Two of the Chicago cases have resulted in arrests.

The Chicago Sun-Times conceived the secret witness plan as a community service. It was sparked by an FBI report that Chicago had 326 murders in 1948, highest number for any city in the U. S. The starting switch was pulled last May 9. The newspaper ran a series of reviews of unsolved murders—55 in all. It followed up with a full page list of 476 persons who had been slain since 1938 and whose slayers never had been brought to book.

The Sun-Times offered to pay $5,000 for information resulting in the conviction of the guilty in each of the first 20 cases solved. Deadline for the rewards is July 5, 1950. (The total was increased to $110,000 by $5,000 rewards posted in the slaying of two Gary, Ind., women.)

Bathing Was Once Held To Be Crime In America

RICHMOND, VA.—Bathing, a daily habit with most Americans, was once a crime in some parts of this country.

Just 200 years ago laws in certain sections prohibited bathing or bathtubs in houses. Modern Americans accustomed to bathing in luxurious bathrooms may find it hard to believe that a home owner in colonial Virginia had to pay a $30 annual "license" if he wanted a bathtub in his home or that jail sentences threatened Philadelphians who took more than one bath a month.

As late as 1845 some communities were still enacting laws to protect the people from "the dangers of bathing," especially in cold weather. The Early American bathroom, drab forerunner of today's model gleaming with chromium, clay tile and mirrors, seldom had space for a tub.

Ben Franklin helped overcome opposition to the bath. He designed a portable copper tub, tailored to his dimensions and shaped like a shoe. Water was heated from a fire in an opening at the heel. About 40 years after Franklin's death, Philadelphia had more than 1,500 bathtubs.

Beggar Had Gem Fortune In Hand, Didn't Know It

CAIRO, EGYPT.—A ragged beggar who pleads for alms in the shadow of the pyramids had a fortune in stolen jewels. But he didn't know it. Police for months had been hunting $80,000 in gems taken last summer from Mrs. Nahas Pasha, wife of the Wafdist party leader.

Finally they caught the thieves. After holding out until the police fed them a chicken dinner, they admitted they had given many of the jewels to a beggar named Bahluk. The jewels were wrapped in a package and the beggar didn't know what they were, they said. He had been instructed to hide them.

After questioning, Bahluk was released. "I just never got around to looking inside that cloth," he admitted ruefully.

Britain Speeds the Plow, And Farmers Are Satisfied

Over a million people work in agriculture and horticulture in Britain. Around 400,000 are farmers, the rest are the hired hands they employ or members of the farmers' families.

One-third of the farmers own their own farms, and two-thirds are tenants, except in Northern Ireland, where all the farmers are owners.

It must not be supposed that owners are better off than tenants, financially or socially. Many farmers, in fact, prefer to be tenants, since they do not have to provide capital for land and buildings, and can therefore devote more of their resources to stock, crops, and machinery to improve working efficiency.

In addition, security of tenure has increased through the years until now, under the Agriculture Act of 1947, a tenant who farms well and pays his rent cannot be turned off his farm unless the landlord intends to farm the land himself. Furthermore, a tenant who leaves his farm is assured of compensation for improvements, e.g., liming and drainage, made during his tenancy.

Proof that tenants are satisfied lies in the average length of their tenancy—21 years, or four years longer than the average period of ownership in the United States. Many times, also, son succeeds father as tenant. If tenure by family were taken into consideration, the average length of tenancy would be considerably longer.

On over half the farms, the farmer, his wife, and older children do all the work, with the occasional assistance of neighbors. On the other farms, there is an average of one farmer to every two hired men.

Little Corsican Paved Way For Invention of Canning

Although Emperor Napoleon is now ancient history, one achievement of the little corporal is evident on dinner tables in all parts of the world.

If it hadn't been for the pint-sized conqueror, the discovery of home-canned foods might have been delayed hundreds of years.

Napoleon's switch from the sword and musket to the ladle and pot world occurred during his early campaigns. More French soldiers were dying of spoiled food than were killed in battle. Also, the morale of the French population was low because of the food shortage.

To remedy this situation, the French dictator turned philanthropist. He founded the society for the encouragement of new inventions, and offered 12,000 francs for a simple and satisfactory method of preserving foods.

Encouraged by the prize, Francois Appert, a candymaker, spent ten years cooking, preserving, and tasting. He finally decided that something in the air caused food to spoil, and began storing food in tightly corked bottles. The corks were covered with sealing wax, dropped into boiling water, and cooked again. This was the beginning of the art of canning.

Vermont's Marble Village

The Emperor Augustus used to boast about finding ancient Rome a city of brick and leaving it a city of marble. The lovely little town of Proctor, Vermont, didn't start out to be anything but marble. Proctor's bridges, office buildings, house foundations—even sidewalks—are made of that beautiful stone.

Proctor is the marble capital of the United States. From surrounding quarries comes 70 per cent of the huge columns and blocks seen in public buildings, the slabs and walls of banks and offices all over the country. The home of the supreme court in Washington, D.C., and the amphitheater at Arlington, Va., were quarried and shaped in Proctor.

Cincinnati Goes for "Spuds"

People who eat out in Cincinnati eat more potatoes than those who eat out in New Orleans, according to a survey of potato preferences among hotels and restaurants in these two cities, recently made by the bureau of agricultural economics, U. S. department of agriculture. Financed under the research and marketing act, this survey was undertaken to furnish facts about the commercial use of this plentiful food crop. Interviews with the food buyers of independent eating establishments showed that where 100 pounds of potatoes a week are purchased in Cincinnati, only 80 pounds are purchased in New Orleans.

Jews in Jerusalem

In spite of the cruel laws of Rome and other rulers of Palestine, there never was a time when Jews ceased to live in Jerusalem. Before the Crusades most of the Jews returning to Jerusalem came from Moslem countries, Babylon and Egypt in particular. Later travellers also came from the West, Judah Halevi, Benjamin of Tudela and the great Maimonides, all visited Jerusalem. Today Jews are once more a majority of the population in the city.

Square Dancing Takes Firm Hold In New York City

NEW YORK.—Square dancing—that beloved recreation of the rural and mountain people—has taken firm hold of New Yorkers much in the same way it has their rural counterparts—and much in the same way its charms are being “discovered” by the teen-agers of the nation.

Last summer, 250,000 persons attended the square dances at three of the city's parks and playgrounds, and more than a half-million New Yorkers took advantage of a similarly free program of social dancing conducted with popular bands in parks and playgrounds of the city's four more populous boroughs.

The square dancing programs usually go like this:

A loudspeaker booms. A voice tells the dancers to form squares. The voice belongs to the callers—some one like Ed Durlacher of the Top Hands and one of the city's best callers. Ed's instructions are always larded with bits of salty humor. Before the tyro or the visitor can gasp out his surprise, he has acquired a pretty fair idea of some of the simple dances.

How Durlacher Does It

Take a typical Durlacher-called dance. Here's how it went: Durlacher alerted his dancers with a cowbell and announced that “Honolulu Baby” would be the next dance.

“Face your partners,” he intoned, “but don't get the horrors—just face them.”

The seven musicians started playing. Durlacher began, “First gents to the right, circle, then hands around. Swing with the other fellow's lady. When you have swung go back where you belong and swing with your Honolulu Baby.”

“Oh, you swing her around, you swing her up and down. Promenade with your lady. Your arm across her waist and you promenade to place—promenade with your Honolulu Baby.”

Gain Popularity

The square dances, which are more popular this year than ever, also attract Walter S. Mack Jr., president of the company, which sponsors the square dances, and Mrs. Mack. Both watch the proceedings intently.

Elsewhere in the city thousands of couples who are not square-dance addicts take part in social dancing sponsored by another company in conjunction with the park department. Favorite band leaders, including Tommy Ryan, Sonny Dunham, Larry Clinton, Alvino Rey and Ray McKinley play nightly on weekdays in a project begun for service men in the war and continued at the request of the park department and by popular demand.

Legless Cowboy Manages To Become Star in Rodeo

BRANDON, M. A. N. — A legless cowboy manages to do rather well astride his horse—if it doesn't buck.

The cowpoke is Danny Wilkinson, who rode into Brandon recently as a star rodeo performer. On his horse, Turk, Danny whirled through a fancy riding stunt that won the crowd's heart.

Danny's no stranger to the saddle. He grew up in Alberta's ranch country and when he was 8 years old he could ride with the best of them. He's 25 now.

As soon as he was old enough to join up in the second World War, Danny entered the Canadian army. He was in the paratroops.

He went overseas and on Dec. 10, 1944, he stepped on a land mine in Italy and lost his legs.

Painful months in the hospital followed and during that time Danny pondered whether he'd be able to pursue the career he'd always wanted to follow—singing hillbilly songs on the radio.

Late in 1945 he “got a hankering” to get back into the saddle. Ignoring those who said it would be impossible, he rigged up a saddle support for himself and in no time was back on a horse.

The support: One piece of potato sack looped around his body and hooked over the saddle horn.

“It was kinda tough getting used to all right,” said Danny. “It's O.K. as long as Turk doesn't buck.”

Doctor Called to Treat Deer With Broken Leg

GREENVILLE, MAINE. — Dr. William Thompson, on vacation here, was roused from his camp bed a few days ago to treat a pet deer.

The deer, named “Flag,” appeared at a Mooshead lake camp with a broken leg late at night. Guests took up a collection to pay a doctor to come to Greenville to attend the fawn.

Then they learned that Dr. Thompson had registered a few hours earlier, they woke him and he applied splints.

Charles Harriman, game warden supervisor, told of seeing “a fair-sized buck deer actually playing with a pair of horses and some young cattle in the middle of a wide open pasture” at Westfield. Later, he said, the deer went into a farmer's yard and trotted past a dog and a haying crew into the woods.

Plenty of peace breeds cowards.—Shakespeare.

$10,000,000 Budget Was Proposed At The Baptist Meeting

A state denominational budget of ten million dollars was the main item of discussion when the Baptists of this area met Tuesday, for the annual conference of the Terra Blanca association. The First Baptist Church of Hereford was headquarters for the meeting.

Dr. A. C. Miller, head of ministry to minorities for the Baptist General Convention of Texas, presented the ten-million-dollar budget, which comes up for approval at the state-wide Baptist convention in El Paso in November. For the first time, the state executive board will ask the convention to adopt a budget only half of which will go for state missions, the other half to worldwide causes.

Representatives from the nineteen churches in this association reported on the progress of their various organizations and made plans for the coming year.

Dr. Miller urged the individual churches represented to follow the convention example by designating fifty per cent of their own budgets for worldwide causes.

The Baptist churches in this association have a total membership of 5,856.

I never had any, but I saw other people spending it. I've learned that spending money is a hard job if a man is conscientious—and, as God is my judge, I've been conscientious.—Sen. Kenneth McKellar (D-Tenn.) chairman, Senate Appropriations Committee.

According to a recent U. S. Supreme Court ruling, the government guarantees you full freedom of speech. But it will not pay any medical, hospital or funeral expenses you may incur through the exercise of this right.

Norris E. Dodd, Director-General, United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization: “More than half the people of the world go to bed hungry.”

P. A. Ongley, New Zealand doctor: “That ninety per cent of the diviners are sincere does not lessen the harm they do.”

West Texas Gas Company Installs Short Wave Radio Network Nine Fixed Stations

West Texas Gas Company recently completed the installation of nine fixed short wave radio stations along its more than 800 miles of transmission lines.

This radio network, consisting of the most modern equipment together with more than 300 miles of company-owned telephone lines and long distance commercial lines, provides as good a communication system as is available.

The nine fixed stations are located at Lubbock (the Lubbock 200-foot antenna is shown at the left), Plainview and Midland, which are division nerve centers; at Odessa, which is near two sources of natural gas supply; at Turkey Creek Compressor Station in the Panhandle Gas Field, and at compressor stations near Canyon, Hereford, Littlefield and Tahoka.

Thirty Mobile Units

We have also equipped 30 trucks and automobiles with two-way radios.

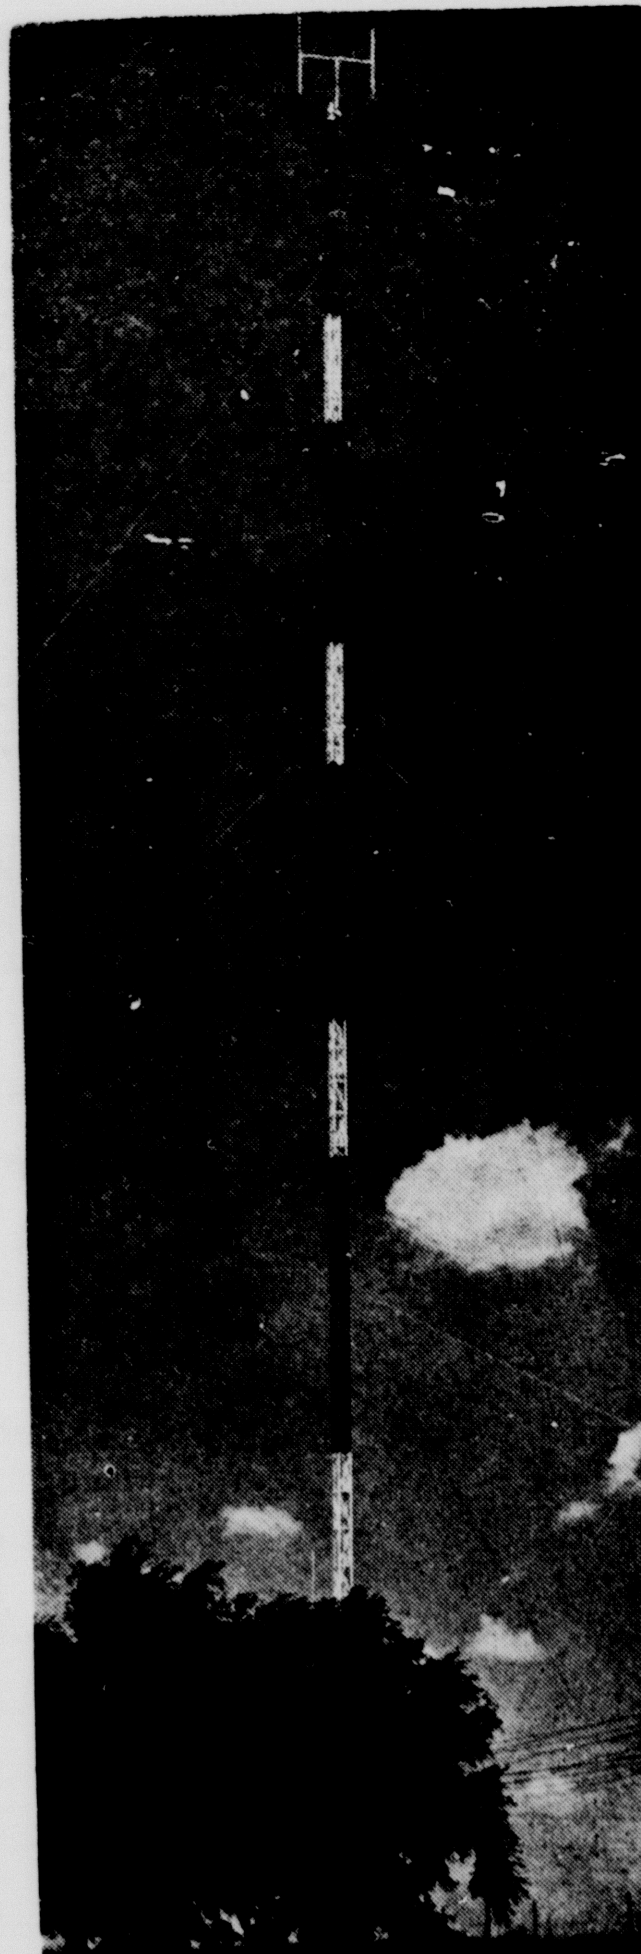

The installation of the short wave radio system enables us to call together emergency crews at a few moments' notice. Licensed radio operators are on duty at all nine fixed radio stations. They keep in contact with maintenance men making repairs and new installations along the transmission lines and also dispatch pressure readings via radio when other communication systems are busy or out of order.

Communication between all points of West Texas Gas Company's transmission lines is very essential and must be maintained at all times in order that the company may render good natural gas service to the thousands of homes and businesses in the 23 counties it serves.

Good gas service doesn't just happen.

POSTSCRIPT

An eleven-year-old violinist sent a letter to one of the juvenile participation shows. It read:

“I listen to your program every day and my greatest ambition is to appear on it and play my violin. I have been taking lessons for three years and already have given two solos at my school. Thank you sir, Homer G.”

The heavy hand of Homer's dotting mother in preparing the letter was obvious, but she apparently left the room once it was sealed in the envelope, for on the back's flap in bold letters Homer had written: “Nuts to you, you big jerk!”

CLEAN HANDS

David, aged six, lives over a mile from school and is allowed to make the journey on his tricycle. A few days ago a neighbor on his way to catch his morning bus came across David standing forlornly beside his tricycle, the chain of which had come off. He soon put matters right, though at some cost to his well-groomed appearance.

“Now that you are six you will soon be able to put your chain on for yourself,” he said to David when he had finished.

“Oh, I can now,” replied David, “but it dirties my hands.”

ONE IN A HUNDRED

One day recently, an Eastern university professor visited the expanding campus of the University of California at Los Angeles. He watched construction work on half-a-dozen new buildings: he inspected new laboratories and attended summer classes in modern study rooms; he walked across miles of eucalyptus-lined lawns and athletic fields with one of the deans. He was impressed.

“My,” he said, “just how many students do you have here?”

“Let me see,” the dean answered thoughtfully, “I'd say about one in a hundred.”

EXPLAINED

George Bernard Shaw keeps himself before the public by making silly statements that are unbecoming for any civilized man, such as his proposals that prisons be abolished and that “incorrigibly dangerous or mischievous human beings, sane or insane,” be put to death like hungry tigers, fleas, lice, and locusts.

It is the grossness of the spectator that discovers nothing but grossness in the subject.—William Hazlitt.

of the college." Dr. Cornette praised the faculty of West Texas State, both the old members and the new ones which had come recently.

How can the people of Canyon help the college? Painting their homes; plant flowers, trees, and shrubs; and by all means providing the right-of-way for the four-lane highway.

Dr. Cornette stated that he had worked in all kinds of colleges—big, small, state and denominational.

"We have one of the best educational institutions in the nation. The difficulty is in getting people of this region to understand this," stated the speaker. Folks send their children long distances to the highest priced college hoping to get the best. In this they are often mistaken.

The Christian ideal—practice of the Golden Rule, is the aim of West Texas State. Plain Democratic living is the objective.

Guests of the club were new members of the faculty this year: Emilio Caballero, art; E. Frances Burba, business administration; J. Weldon Butler, Methodist Bible Chair; Truett Smith, Baptist Bible Chair; Earl

L. Craig, Church of Christ Bible Chair.

Talmage R. Whiteside, auditor; Toney Brown, science; Miss Alice Payne, Mrs. A. B. Holt, training school; Mrs. Hester Ann Finley, home economics; Miss Josephine Sage, physical education; Miss June Wimberly, music;

Vaughn Vandergriff, publicity; Emmitt D. Smith, practice teaching; Dr. Colbert C. Held, geography.

Mrs. R. D. Lowry Reviews Trip

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Lowry returned last Friday from a sight seeing trip through Oklahoma, East and South Texas.

Leaving here on September 9, they spent the night in Lawton, Okla.; from there they went to beautiful Platt National Park at Sulphur. Medical springs and the wonderful Bromide Spring Pavilion together with the Museum of Indian relics surrounded by beautiful trees in which all kinds of birds could be added to the pleasure of the scenic drives.

At Salisaw, Okla., they crossed the Arkansas River on a bridge three-fourths of a mile long. The main channel of water was one-fourth mile wide. From Salisaw they drove 600 miles to Tyler, the Rose City of Texas. There they saw the profusion of roses that gives origin to the name.

Driving from there through the pinewoods to Bayside via of Lufkin and Livingston, they saw pines towering 75 feet before the first limb branched out. At Bayside they with five other cars took a ferry across the ship channel to San Jacinto Battlefield. They saw the 600 foot relic of World Wars I and II, the Battleship Texas, moored for exhibition. The Lowrys visited the big oak under which Gen. Houston received the surrender of Santa Ann. A marble slab attached to the tree carried the picture of the men who were instrumental in the capture of Santa Anna.

From the top of the 572 foot Memorial Monument they were to see Houston, Texas City, Baytown, Lufkin, Galveston and many small towns. The base of the monument houses a museum of relics of the Mexican War and representing development of the southern part of Texas.

While visiting in Galveston the Lawrys stayed in a Motel on the seawall. From their cabin they had beautiful views of moonrise and sunrise; views of ships sailing from port and easy access to the pleasure buildings built out over the Gulf. On the piers to these buildings were chairs in which one might sit to watch the sights.

Compared with 1939, the dollar is now worth 59 cents. This is 2 cents above the dollar's value in purchasing power in the fall of '48. So that's where those pennies came from that we found in our pocket!

Fourteen New Teachers Here With Opening of Fall Semester

New faces will be seen this year in the faculty of West Texas State College, as well as in the student body. There will be 14 new teachers among the faculty, three more in the Demonstration School and seven new faces among the regular employees of the school.

Among the new professors will be Emilio Caballero, member of the art department, who comes to West Texas State from Amarillo and received his Master of Arts degree at Columbia University during the summer term this year. Mr. Caballero is noted throughout the state for his 'provocative' paintings.

Three members of the faculty this year will represent three denominations in the teaching of Bible courses. They are Truett Smith, who will handle the affairs of the Baptist Student Union and Bible Chair; J. Weldon Butler, adviser and teacher at the newly constructed Methodist Student Center, who received his M.A. at Southern University; and Earl L. Craig, a West Texas ex-student who received his Master's degree here and will teach Bible and have charge of activities at the Church of Christ Student Union.

Two new members will be among the faculty of the Business Administration Department; Frances Burba, a graduate of Texas Tech with a Master of Business Administration, and Gilford Cox, graduate of Texas A&M and holder of a Master's degree.

Women's physical education's new addition is Josephine Sage of Lyman, Colo.

Mrs. Hester Ann Finley, graduate of the University of Texas with a Master of Arts Degree, will be added to the Home Economics Department.

The Geographic Department will have as a new teacher Dr. Colbert C. Held, graduate of Clark University with a Doctor of Philosophy degree.

Dr. J. B. Roberts, though not a new member of the faculty, was announced as the new head of the Education Department last Monday morning at the faculty breakfast. He succeeds F. E. Savage, who will remain as director of the Demonstration School. Emmett Smith is a new member of the Education Department faculty.

Vaughn Vandergriff, new director of publicity and journalism teacher, is a 1949 graduate of West Texas and former editor of The Prairie. He won the Epsilon Beta Outstanding Student Award last year. And June Wimberley, winner of the Pi Omega Outstanding Student Award last year, was also added to the faculty, as a teacher of music.

Two graduates of this college have received graduate assistantships this year. They are Leroy Reeves and Bill Hutchinson. Reeves will teach in the History Department and Hutchinson in the Speech Department.

New faculty members in the Demonstration School are Toney Brown, science; Miss Alice Payne, English and Mrs. A. B. Holt, who will replace Mrs. Mary Sligar, who is on leave of absence.

New regular employees of the school are Talmadge R. Whiteside, auditor in the business office; Mary Jo Turner, assistant dietitian at the college cafeteria; Mrs. Alfred Woods, assistant supervisor of Randall Hall; Joyce Crowley, secretary to the veterans' coordinator; Mrs. Madge McNabb, secretary to the business manager; Maurine Medlin, transcript clerk and Katherine Hemphill, secretary in the Bureau of Public Service.

TEENICIDE Road Deaths On Uptrend

CHICAGO. — A car full of teenage boys recently drove through a red traffic light in a suburb near here and rammed their automobile at breakneck speed into the machine of an elderly couple. The innocent couple was killed instantly and all of the boys were seriously injured—some perhaps for life.

This accident typifies a new form of mass murder and self-destruction on the highways known as "teenicide."

Teenicide is violent death caused by an automobile driver under 25 years of age, usually the result of recklessness or immature judgment. Last year, teenicide figures soared to 7,500 killed and an estimated 275,000 injured. This shocking total represents 10 times more casualties than our armed forces suffered at Iwo Jima and cost the nation 600 million dollars in cold cash.

Can anything be done to reduce this slaughter? Scores of insurance agencies, automobile associations and other organizations are throwing their weight into the teenicide problem.

Three-Way Problem

James S. Kemper, chairman of the Lumbermens mutual casualty company and a pioneer in highway safety, believes the present death and accident rate can be cut only by changing the frivolous and irresponsible attitude of youth.

"The teenicide problem must be attacked in three ways," Kemper says. "First, youngsters must be taught the techniques of safe driving, preferably in schools. Second, traffic rules must be enforced and stricter license requirements established. The third approach—and most important—is that parents should not only teach good driving but set an example themselves."

Kemper points out that any teenage boy who sees his parents driving 50 miles an hour in a 40-mile zone—and getting by with it—can almost invariably be expected to drive 60 miles an hour under the same conditions from natural vitality and exuberance.

According to statistics, a car in the hands of a teen-ager is about twice as dangerous as a car driven by a mature adult. The 16-20 age group is involved in five times as many accidents as the 45-50 group; and sixteen-year-old drivers cause nine times as many accidents as the 45-50 group.

Instruction Effective

High school instruction in safe driving has proved highly effective in reducing teenicide. But, unfortunately, only 600 out of 20,000 U. S. high schools offer this course. The American automobile association is prepared to lend staff educators who will train high-school teachers in safe driving.

In addition to pouring out tons of safety literature and advertising each year, Lumbermens helps to pay expenses for Northwestern university's traffic institute. This company also sponsored a safe-driving contest among college newspapers last fall.

The National Safety Council is directing much of its highway material toward teenicide. These organizations and many others are all eager to help solve this serious problem.

If school boards and parents would cooperate against teenicide, thousands of lives and limbs—not to mention the personal agony—could be saved.

Air Forces Now Making Cupid's Task Easier

WASHINGTON.—The air force has made things easier for Cupid. Sometime ago an official directive stated that would-be bridegrooms in the four lowest pay ranks must obtain consent of squadron commanders before saying "I do."

The air force's position was that the lower-paid soldier—because of the shortage of service accommodations and benefits—should, among other things, prove his ability to carry the financial end of a marriage.

This caused "confusion," according to The Beam, weekly newspaper of Bolling Field air base here. It also caused a decline in weddings.

Under the new order a prospective bridegroom must write a "letter of intent" to the commander. Then the officer "counsels" the enlisted man on finances, housing, transportation, and other matters of armed-services married life. After this it's up to the couple whether they want to be married.

Experimenter Gives Up Neckless-Chicken Try

BYRON, CALIF.—A chicken with no neck would be a bigger boon to white meat lovers than even the new wingless variety. That idea occurred to Lorenzo Armstrong when he read about wingless birds developed in the Midwest.

So Armstrong built his hen houses with low roofs. Feeding troughs were breast high. The wire over the chicken runs was lowered. He figured if they kept their heads down the chickens' necks wouldn't grow.

He gave up finally. The chickens just got humpbacked.

Mess In England Still Remains a Mess For U.S.A.

U. S. News & World Report has published an unusually interesting interview with Geoffrey Crowther, editor of the Economist of London, dealing with Britain's difficulties and their possible solution. What gives it a particular importance is that Mr. Crowther, who is regarded both here and abroad as an outstanding authority on British affairs, has been sympathetic with many of the Labor government's policies and actions—but, at the same time, sees grave dangers in some of them.

Thus, in one section of the interview, he said, "Taxation is so heavy now that there really is very little reward for anybody to work any harder. And I'm not only talking about the high-income executive. I'm talking about the ordinary workingman. He knows that, as soon as his earnings exceed about $30 a week for a single man, as much as 36 per cent is deducted in tax off any additional money that he makes. "Next the social services. Though I'm one of their most convinced advocates, I think they've been allowed to run riot in this country. It's been made a little too easy to lead a safe easy life, and in various ways we have got to put that right. . . .

"And the old Victorian belief that a high standard of living comes from a high standard of production, or, to quote another famous slogan, that 'He who does not work, neither shall he eat,' has been allowed to slide too much into the background. . . . We have got to make some moral return in that direction."

Regardless of the side one takes, it is obvious that one of the greatest issues of the time is that of the welfare state—of ever-expanding social services by government, paid for in one way or another at an enormous cost to capital, labor, and all the taxpayers. The situation Mr. Crowther speaks of has approached the crisis point in Britain, and the Labor government is being reluctantly compelled to impose a still greater degree of austerity on the people. In part, Britain's present economic emergency is due to the fact that her goods are too expensive to compete in world markets, and this, in turn, results from the problems Mr. Crowther described.

Here is one of the reasons why Congress has been cold to so many of the provisions of Mr. Truman's legislative program. Our social security program is nowhere near so broad as England's. Still, it is costing employer and employee very great sums in payroll levies, and rates are to progressively rise. So cradle-to-the-grave social security has not found favor among lawmakers that President hoped for.

Charles Schuman, president, Illinois Agricultural Association: "More and more, agriculture is becoming a minority group in our nation."

Emotional Disturbances Have Physical Aftermath

Emotions are physical, points out Burrill Freedman, M.S., Chicago, in Hygeia, health magazine of the American Medical association.

Emotions arise from activities of the material of nerve cells, he explains. If certain cells of the central nervous system are destroyed, or if the connection between them is broken, the capacity for emotions is affected.

"All our mental experiences are the result of activity going on in intricate circuits of nerve cells. The cells of the brain cortex alone are estimated at more than nine billion, and each has multiple connections with its neighbors. Their activity has both electric and chemical aspects which are interrelated," Mr. Freedman says.

Brain circuits involved in the emotions take in the frontal "association areas," whose functions are not yet clearly understood. The thalamus, located in the base of the brain, also plays a part in emotion, according to the article. Circuits run up and down between it and the "higher centers," the areas more directly involved in conscious experience. The thalamus is a receiving point for sensations, a relay center for emotions.

Anger, and particularly anger against oneself, can help to bring about peptic ulcer. Anger causes the stomach to contract more than is normal, and also to secrete more juice than is normal.

Prolonged or repeated annoyance can give some persons jaundice. It does so by stopping the flow of bile from the liver or gallbladder into the intestine. The bile may then back up into the blood vessels.

Resentment at being forced to swallow injustices can prevent food from entering one's stomach. The resentment causes the entrance to the stomach to tighten up, preventing the entrance of food.

Strained Foods Suggested For Use in Special Diets

There are times in almost every home when a special diet is the order. When a member of the family is ill for a short period, or when an older person cannot eat the regular fare, it is important that that person have the right food.

Dieticians suggest that strained foods can be used to good advantage in preparing special diets. Such foods are not for infant diets only. Today recipes are keyed to grown-ups as well as to infants.

Creamed carrots on toast topped with grated cheese is one tasty combination. Prepare a thick cream sauce, add the strained carrots and serve on crisp buttered toast. Top with grated cheese, garnish with a bit of green—parsley or water cress—and it's ready to serve.

Strained foods have all the nutrients of the same foods canned in the usual way. In addition to a variety of fruits and vegetables, meats are now available. Some of them are processed so that they can be made into meat patties and broiled. Others are diced and are fine for stews and creamed dishes.

Guard Against Disease

The best health insurance you can give your baby is to see that he gets vaccination and immunizations against smallpox, whooping cough, diphtheria, and tetanus during the first year of his life, states Miss Martha E. Brill, extension home health and sanitation specialist, Kansas state college. Of particular importance is the whooping cough immunization as early as two to two and a half months, since the mother does not seem capable of transmitting any immunity to her offspring against whooping cough, which still kills many infants each year. At about two months of age, smallpox vaccination can be given with the immunization against diphtheria and tetanus delayed until about nine months of age.

Land of Rice Farms

Chinese Communists, overcoming the barrier posed by the bridgeless lower Yangtze River, crossed from Cathay to Manzi—and from noodles to rice. Cathay and Manzi, names now relegated to literary use, served Marco Polo well 650 years ago in describing the coast regions north and south of the Yangtze river. Noodles and rice summarize the sharp contrast in agriculture between China's north and south, notes the National Geographic society. They are very important in a land whose 460 million people divide roughly into 60 million city dwellers and 400 million farm and farm village folk.

Fish Hooks

Amateur fishermen are now taking more than 50 per cent of the half million fish hooks made each day, on the average, in the United States, according to a prominent manufacturer. About 3,000 of the popular size No. 6 trout hooks weigh a pound. As a general rule, however, about 1,500 hooks are made from a pound of steel wire. That includes the requirements of commercial fisheries which use heavy hooks. Total production consumes a little more than 300 pounds of steel a day.

Cyclones Down Eagles 19-13 In Second Non-Conference Game

Since Sudan postponed the game with the CHS Eagle Squad for the coming Friday night, until October 7, Coach Scott's Eagles will have an open date this weekend. However the team may scrimmage Friday night on the West Texas State football field.

Their next opponent will be Price College on Butler Field, Amarillo, September 30. Price is fresh from a victory over Estelline, and Canyon is smarting from a defeat handed them last Friday by the Memphis Cyclones. The clash promises to be a regular slug-fest.

In their opening game on the ninth of September, the Eagles outplayed the Tulsa Hornets on their home ground with the score of 6-0.

The Eagles out-ran, out-blocked and tackled harder than the Hornets from the very beginning of the game. Joe Abbott took the ball on a hand-off from Garland Butler and raced 20 yards for the lone tally of the game.

Butler Scores

Last Friday night, the underrated Canyon Eagles stormed the Memphis Cyclones from the start of the game there. In the first quarter Garland Butler powered his way over the TD line for six points, and Robert O'Donald converted for the extra point.

The Canyon defense held the Cyclones to short gains, but Gardenshire of Memphis rammed over from the three, and then added the extra point.

In the second quarter the second Memphis score was set up by a fumble of the Eagles' left end at the kick-off. After several short gains Gardenshire again drove over from the two-yard line, but the point was missed.

In the third quarter Joe Abbott ran the kick-off 41 yards to the Memphis 44. Then smooth ball handling by Abbott and Butler again pushed the ball to the three-yard line where the Eagles lost it on downs. However they scored later in the quarter making the score 14-13 in favor of the Eagles.

The Cyclone's winning touchdown was provided late in the fourth quarter by a pass from Stargel to Rascoe in the end zone. The score then stood 19-14 in favor of the Cyclones.

The Eagles made 211 yards by rushing to 192 for Memphis. They also led in first downs 14-13. They used the Two Platoon System in trying to stop the Cyclone's long runs.

GOOD RECORD, YES OR NO?

Now, since school has started, are CHS pupils planning to study harder than they did last year? We have a whole year ahead of us to do our best work. While the teacher's grade books are clean and white just begging for A's and B's, we have an opportunity to make the best record ever. All of us students should try to do the best work of his career. If we have not made the best record in the past, now is our chance to do better. What do we say? Let us make this the best school year Canyon High has ever had!

Campsey and Scruggs Are High School's New Custodians

Sweep, sweep, sweep. I suppose you've noticed the men with the brooms around the buildings. It seems they are always busy keeping the buildings and grounds in order.

Mr. Carl W. Smith is head of the high school custodians this year, and Mr. I. M. Stein has charge of the grade school work. Two new custodians, R. D. Campsey and Walter Scruggs assist Mr. Smith.

Mr. I. H. Hollabough, who was a custodian for five years, was forced to resign this summer due to illness.

The school board is giving a picnic dinner for the faculty, Thursday, at five o'clock, at Ed Reynolds ranch.

Film Library Is Added Feature

One picture is worth a thousand words, Confucius says. Evidently educators believe it. Keeping pace with the new movement in visual education, Canyon Public Schools is making up a complete library of films to be used in all the high school courses.

As yet there is no sound track film, but it will probably be added in the near future.

A time schedule will be made and posted for the convenience of each department head, and teachers will show the films to their classes as the need arises.

The visual education room, which will accommodate 30 students, is located in the barracks building on the west side of the grounds.

A fund for film strips is to be divided among the different departments. Several companies and governmental agencies will furnish free films which are most beneficial.

English mailboxes are called pillar posts.

Campus Face Gets Badly Needed Uplift

How cheerful the auditorium looks in its new coat of light green and gray paint. Students will no doubt enjoy assemblies more than ever during this school term.

Various classrooms have also been given "dress-ups."

A wide sidewalk in front of the building makes the entrance appear more spacious.

The cafeteria floors carry their refinishing very nicely.

The studio couch and chair in Mr. Wooten's office are much more colorful, since they have been upholstered in forest green.

The first floor hall is quite improved in its coat of off-white, but further redecorating will be done there.

Even the floors are so slick and shiny one must watch out or he will find himself sprawling, suffering from severe bumps.

But since some one has said "cleanliness is next to Godliness," here's hoping our thoughts are as clean as our surroundings.

Hill, Erwin Edit 'Soaring Wings'

Co-Editors Will Attend
Annual Clinic In Austin

Mary Ruth Hill and Donna Erwin will head the 1949-50 "Soaring Wings" staff as co-editors. Dana Lee Rice will be proof editor, and Martha Hales will see service as art editor. Assistant editors and business manager will be named soon.

Work is under way on this year's edition. Names of all high school students will be posted on the bulletin board in the near future. Each student will place an 'x' before his name if the spelling is correct, otherwise he will draw a circle before his name. This method is to insure the correct spelling of all names in the annual.

Individual pictures of the Eagle football squad were made Monday afternoon, and the staff will be ready soon for class photographs.

Mary Ruth, Donna and Mrs. Nora E. Gilmore, sponsor, will leave, by bus, Saturday night, for the Annual Clinic to be held in Austin, under the supervision of the Steck Company, September 26 and 27.

The program will be conducted in the Driskill Hotel, and will consist of lectures on Staff Organization, Duties of the Business Managers, Yearbook Photography, Copy Art Medium, and Layout and Theme Art.

Eaglettes Begin Season's Practice

Eaglette's basketball practice has started with twenty-four girls coming out. Mrs. Lillian Graham is the instructor. Real work-outs, with after-school practice will begin toward the end of October, and the team will then be selected.

"I have plenty of good basketball material, but the girls all need more experience," states Mrs. Graham.

Mrs. Graham also teaches four physical education classes with about twenty-four girls in each class.

Mrs. Lisle Heads Lunchroom With Approximately Old Staff

The "all-important" lunch room is well under way now and running smoothly, according to Mrs. J. H. Lisle, head hostess. The same staff that worked last year is employed with the exception of Mrs. Mickey, who is not back with us this year. The staff consists of: Mrs. J. H. Lisle, Mrs. Dick Furlow, Mrs. Bernice Laughery, Mrs. J. R. Devins, Mrs. Kate Rigby, and Mrs. Gene Peppard. These women did an excellent job last year and will be as good, or better, this year.

Approximately 450 students and teachers eat at the lunch room daily. The elementary school has lunch at 11:30 a.m. and the high school students begin eating at 11:50 a.m.

Canyon High Has New Teachers

Seven new teachers are on the C.H.S. roster this semester. They are: Margaret Nell Hillman, Betty Sue Hardaway, Mrs. Lillian Graham, Loyce Elliott, Mr. Harry Garrison, Mr. Jim Scott, and Mr. George Scott.

Miss Hillman, general math and plane geometry teacher, is a graduate of Clarendon Junior College and received her B. S. degree in 1942 at West Texas State. She has taught four years at Hot Springs, New Mexico and was assistant mathematics professor for three years at the University of Arizona. She will receive her M.S. degree there next spring.

Miss Hardaway, our present librarian, hails from Denton, Texas, where she finished high school at the demonstration school of North Texas State College. She also was graduated from college there receiving a B.A. degree with a major in library science.

Mrs. Graham, the girls' athletic instructor, comes to us all the way from New York. She finished high school in Endecott, N. Y., and received her M.A. degree from New York University. She has taught in New York State, West Texas State College, and Horace Mann in Amarillo.

C.H.S.'s new choir director is Miss Elliott. She received her B.F.A. degree at Oklahoma City University and has done graduate work at the University of Colorado. She has taught four years in Lefors, Texas.

Teacher of American history and civics is Mr. Garrison, who is a graduate of Wheeler High School. He received his B.S. and M.A. degrees for Sul Ross in Alpine, Texas. He spent two years in the Pacific as a First Lieutenant in the United States M.C.R.

Mr. Jim Scott, the shop instructor, is a graduate of Tulsa High School and received a B.S. degree in industrial arts at North Texas State College. He spent two years as an American Cadet in the Army Air Corps.

World history teacher and boys' senior athletic instructor is Mr. George Scott. He has attended Michigan University, Louisiana State University, Oklahoma City University, and Oklahoma A. & M., and has received his B.S. and M.A. degrees. He taught at several different places before accepting a position at Canyon High and is now hard at work trying to get the football team ready to take the District Championship this year.

Safety Course Is New Instruction

Safety education is one of the new subjects being offered in C.H.S. this semester. For the behind-the-wheel instruction the Stevenson Pontiac Co. has lent the school one of their new Silver Streak, dual-controlled, Pontiac eights. The class will be divided into five sections for the behind-the-wheel instruction. Two days a week, the class will discuss safety rules, and three days a week, receive behind-the-wheel instruction. Eighteen pupils have enrolled in this course.

Ray E. Schultz took special training in Safety Education in Texas University last summer to prepare himself as instructor of the subject.

"The aim of this course is to make young drivers, safe drivers. We believe that the automobile drivers should be educated instead of being allowed to form their driving habits through hit-or-miss methods, and that the high schools should assume this responsibility for doing the job," says Ray Schultz.

Other subjects being offered for the first time in two years are Spanish and Civics.

Miller; Window Monitors, Perry Slagle, and Joe Riley.

Sixth grade Social Studies class is having a unit on air transportation. Each child is going to give an oral report to the class on some phase of air travel. Last Saturday, Will Hartman, Ray McCarter, Billy Harrison, Joe Max Carver, Gene Parker, Eddie Baca, Robert Holl and Burton Davis, and Mrs. Iverson visited Amarillo Air Terminal to get information for oral reports. A guide was furnished the group and explanation was given on weather forecasting, the services of the transport planes, and the mechanical shops in the operations hangar. The boys were taken through the TWA airliner while it was being serviced.

Grade 5J has three new pupils from W.T. Training School. They are Nelda Jean Coffee, Vanda Lou Latham, and Christina Sikes.

Mrs. Walsh is the teacher of English for the fifth and sixth grades and written and oral work has begun in earnest.

2 Goats Make Like Mary's Little Lamb

Two bright, interesting creatures were waiting patiently outside the high school doors last Thursday when registration for the fall semester of school began. They were strangers and no one invited them in or pretended to welcome them. They stood patiently chewing their paper wads noiselessly until the entire student body had registered.

Then, as if not to be ignored, they came into the building, and up to the door of the Superintendent's office. Had the moment arrived when they would demand registration? Evidently not. Mrs. Inell Lowe came out and rudely shoed them away.

Yes, you guessed it! They are two goats. Whose? No one knows, but at any rate they are ambitious, or else they were waiting patiently about like Mary's little lamb!

Thirty-Three Are CHS Newcomers

Thirty-three new students have enrolled in Canyon High School for the 1949-50 school year. The senior and junior classes have only one new student each, they are Betty Mitchell, Portales, New Mexico, senior; Bill Hall, West Texas, junior. The sophomore class has nine new students. They are: Florence Coffee, Bette McGehee, James Cundiff, Carol Duncan, Ray Henders, all from West Texas; Betty Hancock, Happy; Sidney Merchant, Haskell; James Marshall, Roseville, California; and Bobby Vandergriff, Tulsa.

The eight new students that have enrolled in the freshman class, are: Raymond Dickinson, Cokedale, Colorado; Bobbie Gressett, West Texas; Lawrence Hermesmyer, Amarillo; John Holland, Olton; Jane Merchant, Haskell; Jackie Mitchell, Portales; Dorothy Sparks, Camp Hood; and Dewain Snapp, West Texas.

The seven new eighth grade students are Ann Barnhill, West Texas; Sarda Curtiss, Amarillo; Denny Mitchell, Portales; Patsy Vangergriff, Tulsa; Cloyd Adams, Petersburg; Lawrence Houdashell, Friona; Edward Randall, Briscoe.

The seventh grade has seven new students, they are: Herman Judd, Sam Norwood; Dewey Gollighugh, Amarillo; Ann Moore, Happy; James Foster Parker, Happy; Charles White, Petrolia; Frances McNew, Fremont, California; Dana Louise Friday, Rocky, Oklahoma.

One cannot stay away from his old school home, can he? Apparently not, since some of last year's graduates have been visiting C.H.S. this past week. They are: June Jennings, Janey Forester, Jeanine Scott, Kenneth Fisher, Marvin Cornette, Billy Cleaver and Harry Campfield.

Dwight D. Eisenhower, President, Columbia University: "There are some who build out of catchwords and fallacies a testament of incapable conflict within our economy."

GRADE NOTES

In the first grade all students are new. Mrs. Collins has enrolled thirty students and is working on a home unit.

Mrs. Black's thirty-two students find employment in a Mother Goose Rhyme unit.

A circus unit complete with a circus tent and an animal parade is keeping Mrs. Davis's second grade busy.

Mrs. Murrell's second grade has started its circus unit. They have named the circus Ringling Brothers and are making their favorite animals to put in it. There are thirty-one pupils in this room.

The farm is the subject of the unit which Mrs. Goodman's third grade is beginning. The class is building one on the reading table. Barbara Myers brought many small farm machines that are on display. New pupils are Janice Bales from Childress and Jerry Parker from Happy.

Four new goldfish and some snails for an aquarium are the possessions of Mrs. Usery's third grade. Five new pupils are Lynn Bailey, from Amarillo, Elizabeth Brown, from Houston, Sondra Hines, from Selman, Oklahoma, and Velma Jo Frank of Umbarger.

Mrs. Cousin's fourth grade is studying a unit titled "A Trip Across the United States on the Lincoln Highway." New pupils are Jerry Dye, Gilmer, Texas, and Rhett Plank, Hereford, Texas.

Mrs. Brasher's fourth grade is making a special study this week of dogs. Since this is "National Dog Week," they are trying to find out as much as possible about the care of their dogs.

Two new students, Joe Kiley of Dawn and Eva Mae Howard of Bushland, have joined Mrs. Davis' 6D class. They have elected the following officers:

President, Barbara Bacon; Vice-President, Faye Lowry; Secretary, Joyce White; Room Captain, Ralph

Mrs. Newton Harrell Writes of Her Trip Made To Alaska Vacation Trip

On the train to McKinley Park we passed through Matamusha and saw dairy cattle and farming for the first time and about the last time too. They produced a million dollars worth of vegetables and berries this year. Everything is very high in Alaska as everything has to be shipped in. They use canned products; canned and powdered milk, canned butter, lugs of dried fruit, chocolate drinks canned in liquid form, canned hams and bacon. They raise nice small gardens. Cabbage grows in especially large, sweet heads. English pea vines grow six feet tall. Although the season is short there is twice as much sunshine during that period as we have in the states. It was fairly dark at nine o'clock at night and sunrise at 2:30 a.m.

Many young college boys are used in construction work on the railroads and highways. The boys manage to see quite a bit of Alaska too.

We just saw a black bear "close up" from the train. He was really jumping ditches to get away. We kept getting a glimpse of snow covered Mt. McKinley. During our stop at the Park we had two perfect days of vision which is unusual. Mt. McKinley looked like a giant church of ice. We saw two moose, two large brown bears, a red fox and a marmot on our tour in the Park.

Randy Acord, Mrs. McCarter's nephew, happened to be at McKinley Park the day we were leaving for Fairbanks. Ed and Newton had flown with him to Katzebue last year. He is considered to be one of the best pilots in Alaska. He saved us a long, slow seven-hour train ride as we made it in his Bonanza in 25 minutes. He telephoned our guide about 15 miles out of Fairbanks and he and his wife were there to meet us.

Katzebue—
This was a tour above the Arctic Circle. When we crossed the Circle, the hostess told us there was a vacuum to fasten our seat belts. We did and the pilot gave us quite a dip and laughed at us for not catching the joke. There were 21 on the Wein Airlines plane leaving Fairbanks for Katzebue and Nome. We spotted a huge Grizzly and several large herds of reindeer. The big DC-3 zoomed down and around with most of us sitting on the floor (as it is hard to stand up with a plane like that doing stunts) trying to see the game. The Eskimos keep herds of reindeer to eat as we do cattle. The herds were all colors like a bunch of milch cows.

Katzebue, on the Bering Strait, is large for an Eskimo village, about 300 people. The coast is lined with tents, skin boats and sled dogs. There are a few warehouses and about fifteen log houses.

Here the natives are all friendly and can speak English. We were told to give them only bubble gum to keep them unspoiled. Small boats were coming in with natives from other islands, bringing seal oil, coal and reindeer meat. The seal oil was carried in seal skin bags made by turning the seal skins inside out and tying up the legs.

Katzebue and Archie Furgeson are one and the same as he owns and runs everything there, trading in furs, fish, and ivory with the natives. Beulah, his young Eskimo squaw, runs the cafe. She took us to her room above the cafe to show us a huge white Polar bear rug that would cover a good sized room.

The Eskimos put on their native dances for us that night with the Diomedes islanders outdoing the others. One fellow starts the dance to the music of the drums and singing. Then the others take up a pair of gloves and join in just as the spirit moves them. (We flew out to the Diomedes Islands but it was too foggy for us to see them.)

We had lunch the next day at windswept Nome, where we saw the second largest gold dredge in the world mining free gold. "Free gold" is so called because workers pick up only the gold that has settled down to bed rock and can be washed from the ground. We saw many gold dredges at work in Alaska. For lunch we had reindeer steaks, which were very tasty. After lunch we left for Fairbanks.

From Fairbanks we flew with the Blankenships from Dalhart in their new Beechcraft Bonanza to Circle Hot Springs on our way to the Charlie River hunting. Ed and our two guides, Elmer Quam and Warren Tillman, had gone on 120 miles by pickup, pulling the two boats with provisions. They launched the boats and traveled 40 miles up the Yukon where we met them that night at Coal Creek.

From the plane we saw three big

THEATRICAL INFLATION
When theatrical managers get together to talk about their "stupendous success," there is always a bit of harmless deception attempted in the matter of box-office receipts.

The late William A. Brady very cleverly provided for this exercise by instructing his traveling managers to add $300 to the true sum when they telegraphed him the box-office revenues.

Thus a thousand dollar house appeared as thirteen hundred on the telegram he showed his competitors.

One night a manager wired: "Theatre burned last night. No performance. Receipts $300."

PASSED THE BUCK

The minister was addressing the Sunday School children. After several minutes he asked: "And now is there any boy or girl who would like to ask me a question?"
For a moment there was silence and then a shrill voice piped out: "Please, sir, why did the angels walk up and down Jacob's ladder when they had wings?"
"Ah, I see," said the minister. "Now would anyone like to answer that question?"
TRUTHFUL BUT—
When the young Scot applied for his first job, his mother went with him. After various questions, the prospective employer asked: "Are you truthful my boy?"
Before the lad could answer, his mother spoke for him.
"Aye, he is," she said; "but, of course he understands that business is business."

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

"GOIN' TO TOWN..."

IN EARLIER DAYS, TRIPS TO TOWN WERE INFREQUENT, CONSIDERED A BIG EVENT... BUT BEFORE THE FAMILY—JOCULAR AND EXCITED—PILED INTO THE SPRING WAGON AND SET OFF, THEY MADE SURE THAT EVERYTHING AT HOME WAS SECURE AND TAKEN CARE OF.

TODAY THE EXPRESSION "GOIN' TO TOWN" MEANS ALERT, FULL OF EAGERNESS, BOUND FOR SUCCESS... BUT NOW, AS IN TIMES PAST, WE KNOW THAT TO GET THE MOST OUT OF ANYTHING WE DO, WE MUST HAVE CONFIDENCE IN THE SECURITY OF OUR FAMILY AND HOME... WHEN EVERYTHING AT HOME IS TAKEN CARE OF—WE CAN REALLY "GO TO TOWN".

HIS VERSION

The pretty school teacher was trying to tell her pupils about the advent of spring.
"As I stood on the station platform one sunny morning waiting for my train I felt something lightly caressing my cheek. Can anyone tell me what it was?" she asked.
"The telegraph operator's mustache?" suggested the small boy of the class.

FORCED

"It was grand of you to dive from that height, fully clothed, to save the young woman," an onlooker exclaimed as the hero was dragged ashore with his burden.
"That's all very well," snarled the hero; "but what I want to know is—who pushed me in?"
L. Prazer Banks, chairman, National Commission on Teacher Education: "The twelve-months school is surely on the way."

Big Things, Small Measure

PHILADELPHIA. — Some of the "biggest things" to be achieved in engineering in the next few years will be measured in millionths of an inch!

Dr. Haakon Styri, research director for SKF Industries, makes that prediction in giving this year's college engineering graduates a career tip. Gauges that can record accurately down to a millionth of an inch are needed more and more by virtually every type of industry today, he said, because today's mass-production techniques demand equipment that can make fast and accurate checks on the precise machining of thousands of mass-produced parts so they can fit where they are supposed to without individual cutting and fitting.

"New and better gauging equipment is in greater demand now than ever," said the SKF scientist. He noted that 40 years ago measurements of one ten-thousandth of an inch were considered the ultimate in perfection, whereas now it's possible to determine these to within a few millionths of an inch.

New Philippine Code Will Abolish Divorce For Any Reasons

MANILA, P. I.—This island government is stamping out divorce. Sometime in 1950 local laws will forbid divorce on any grounds.

The new Philippine code, enacted at a recent session of the congress, will become effective one year after its publication.

Even under existing laws, divorce in the Philippines is extremely difficult. The only grounds are infidelity on the part of the wife or husband—and the guilty spouse must be imprisoned before the divorce may be granted.

The new code allows legal separation both of body and property, but neither spouse may remarry. The new code also provides for legal separation when one spouse tries to kill the other.

Foreign divorces obtained by couples married in the Philippines are not recognized by Philippine courts.

Dr. Jorge Bocobo, former associate justice of the supreme court and for 17 years dean of the University of the Philippines law college, called the abolition of divorce here a "backward step." He was chairman of the code commission which prepared the new compilation of civil laws for enactment.

The new code provides, however, that the wife's consent is necessary before any sale of conjugal property is made by the husband. Under the old law, the husband could dispose of conjugal property without even telling his wife.

America Proves too Much For Baby Elephant Bimbo

NEW YORK.—Bimbo was a well behaved elephant—for such a little elephant, so far away from his native Africa.

When the plane landed at the international airport, Bimbo walked down the ramp without a bit of help.

It just took a little push to persuade him to lift his 190 pounds into the back seat of the car. He was reported to be the first elephant ever to ride in an automobile.

On the first trip downtown he stuck his trunk out of the window, and waved it calmly at the skyscrapers.

Believed to be the youngest—five months old—and smallest—30 inches high—ever to come to this country, Bimbo was an elephant of distinction. And he behaved with distinction.

But at the animal store where he was taken, to await shipment to his final home in the St. Louis zoo, Bimbo found America too much for him.

The owner found him a few hours later collapsed in his cage, breathing too loudly, his heartbeat too weak.

A police emergency squad was called.

They gave Bimbo 1,600 cubic feet of pure oxygen before a trained animal-ambulance crew arrived.

The animal-store owner called his personal physician, who once had attended him for pneumonia.

The doctor administered penicillin and adrenalin injections.

Less than 12 hours after he arrived, Bimbo was reported sinking.

Later, lying under a gray army blanket and still getting oxygen, Bimbo died.

His body will go to the American museum of natural history.

Fish Leaps into Throat Of Italian Fisherman

VENICE, ITALY.—From now on fisherman Giovanni Casonato, 17, will keep his mouth shut while he is working.

Dispatches from Mestre said he is recovering from an operation. While he was emptying his net the other day, a small fish leaped into his mouth and got stuck in his throat.

Australia is the only continent lying entirely south of the Equator.

FIRE!

Her husband being slightly indisposed, a young and inexperienced wife attempted to take his temperature, and, in a state of great excitement, scribbled a note to the doctor:

"Dear doctor, — Please come at once. My husband's temperature is 136."

The doctor replied: "Dear madam —The case is beyond my skill. Send for the fire engine."

It is warmer to wear two thin garments than one thick one because the air between them serve as insulation.

SAY, I'VE GOT A GREAT IDEA...LET'S MAKE THIS A DOUBLE DATE! YOU KIDS DON'T MIND IF WE COME ALONG...WHAT SAY, DORIS?

BUT, DEAR—

THE TROUBLE WITH MODERN PARENTS IS THEY DON'T TAKE TIME TO KNOW THEIR YOUNGSTERS AND THE KIDS REGARD THEM AS OLD FUDDIE-DUDDIES! WE WANT TO BE PART OF THE CROWD!

IS HE KIDDIN'?

C'MON, MR. WILSON, HONEY, Y'FEET CAN'T HURT THAT MUCH... YES DANCE!
